American Paratroopers and Mules Speed the Invasion of Sicily

FDR, Churchill Tell Italians: 'Quit or Die'

Leaders Warn That Allies Dominate Air and Coasts Around Italy.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill today gave Italy her choice—to surrender honorably, or be blasted out of the war.

In a virtual ultimatum, the Allied leaders said the time had come for the Italian people "to decide whether Italians shall die for Mussolini and Hitler—or live for Italy and civilization."

The statement added: "The skies over Italy are dominated by the vast air armadas of the United States and Great Britain," and "Italy's sea coasts are threatened by the greatest accumulation of British and Allied sea power ever concentrated in the Mediterranean."

In a joint statement issued simultaneously at the White House and in London (at 7 a. m. eastern war time) the two United Nations leaders told the people of Italy that the sole hope of Italy's survival "lies in honorable capitulation to the overwhelming power of the military forces of the United Nations."

"If you continue to tolerate the Fascist regime which serves the evil power of the Nazis, you must suffer the consequences of your own choice," the statement said.

With Allied forces sweeping across Sicily toward the Italian mainland, the president and British prime minister in their message broadcast to Italy from Algiers and other adjacent Allied points, said they could take no satisfaction in invading Italian soil and bringing the tragic devastation of war home to the Italian people.

They added that they were determined, however, to "destroy the false leaders and their doc-

Allied Troops Bag 18,000 Prisoners As Axis Forces Fall Back.

BULLETIN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA —(AP)— The British Eighth army in eastern Sicily drove within 15 miles of Catania after beating back the Goering division north of Lentini, it was announced today. At the same time it was announced that the Allies have captured more than 20,000 prisoners.

(By Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—The Allied command announced the capture of 13 more towns all along the moon-shaped Sicilian front today and observers said the enemy might henceforth be compelled to fight a defensive action while withdrawing from the island.

More than 18,000 Axis prisoners had been drawn into the Allied bag in an invasion that was only in its seventh day.

With the immediate prize of Catania, half way up the east coast, near at hand, the veterans of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery were said by today's communique from Allied headquarters to have "made further progress against German troops who desperately contested every inch of the ground.

(The Rome radio, in a broadcast recorded in London, said "the real and true decision for the island will be reached in a new battle which has already virtually started in the Catania plain.")

"Severe losses were inflicted upon the enemy" by the American Seventh army of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., which "advanced several miles across difficult hill country and captured further important posi-

Akron Still Without Street Cars, Buses

TIE-UP IN SECOND DAY

Three-Sided Effort Fails To End CIO Strike; Rubber Employes Work Again.

(By Associated Press)

AKRON — Bus and street car service remains at a standstill here today, as a strike of more than 400 CIO operators continues despite a three-sided effort to end the stoppage.

The executive committee of the CIO Transport Workers union called a meeting of members for 2 p. m. today and international president Michael J. Quill indicated he would appeal personally to the men to return to their jobs.

The regional war labor board in Cleveland sent a telegram to union leaders calling for an end to the strike, and at the same time, Akron's Mayor George J. Harter conferred with union heads on methods of starting a back-to-work movement.

While the unexpected walkout at 4 a. m. yesterday paralyzed all mass transportation facilities in Akron, Barberton and Cuyahoga Falls, major war industries reported only slight increases in absenteeism and said production was not curtailed.

The walkout followed WLB panel recommendations of time and a half pay for all work over 42½ hours weekly, straight time pay for all over three hours waiting time between shifts, and paid

Ceiling Set on 1,150 Food Items In County

New OPA Order Fixes Maximum Prices On 75 Per Cent of Foods; Schedule Goes Into Effect Today.

Community-wide dollar-and-cent ceiling prices on approximately 1,150 food items were fixed for Richland county retail stores today by the district Office of Price Administration in Cleveland.

Today's order represents an extension of the flat-pricing established earlier in Cuyahoga, Summit, Mahoning and Stark counties. Richland and 14 other northeastern Ohio counties are included in the extension. The order is effective today.

Mansfield OPA officials said they had received no formal notice of the extension, but word from the Cleveland OPA office said a complete list of items and prices will be forwarded soon.

The OPA said standardization under the new plan would level off prices but would not change the general legal price level "because community prices reflect ceilings previously prevailing under markup regulations."

Community prices will be maximums only and retailers may sell for less, the OPA said. About 75

'NEARLY SOLVED'

U. S. War Production Has Only Few Kinks Left, Truman Says.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With the observation that some war plants are not running at full capacity, Chairman Truman (D-Mo.) of the senate war investigating committee said today the nation's military production appears to be "nearly solved."

Conceding that there are many kinks yet to be straightened out in the production lines, Truman told an interviewer his committee soon would focus its critical searchlight on the transportation situation which he described as "serious."

"I think the production problem is nearly solved," he said. He added that the nation's capacity for turning out war machines and materials is reaching the point where it might be considered overbuilt, at least in some fields. That accounts, in part, for the fact that all plants are not operating at capacity," he said.

PLAN STUDY ON AIRPORT LAND

C. of C. Legal Committee Meets Monday To Map Purchase of 1,000-Acre Tract.

Procedure Mansfield is to follow in obtaining approximately 1,000 acres of land for the development of a major airport here will come under the microscope Monday when the legal committee of the Chamber of Commerce meets to study the government's proposal.

Data prepared by the Civil Aeronautics Administration was turned over to the committee yesterday by Mayor W J. Locke with a request for recommendations.

Although Atty C. H. Huston, chairman of the committee, could not be reached today, committee members said the meeting had been tentatively set for Monday.

The committee is expected to recommend to council the procedure to be followed in obtaining the land for which the government has allocated $600,000 for a Class 4 airport.

It is also expected to recommend a method of financing the project.

The government's proposal to develop the port is contingent on the city's acquisition of the land, which lies north and west of the present Mansfield port.

The state highway department has already indicated willingness to re-locate State Route 13.

YOUTH CENTER PLAN PRAISED

Juvenile Judge Lauds J. A. C. Proposal, Suggests Creation of Neighborhood Programs.

Expressing enthusiasm and interest in the project, Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer today praised the Mansfield Junior Association of Commerce for its plan for a teen age recreation center.

"I think that every organization interested in a better Mansfield should back up the J. A. C. in its effort to do something really constructive for the youngsters of the war-time and post-war period," the judge said.

He offered the suggestion that while one convenient community center would be desirable, two or three smaller neighborhood centers would better meet the requirements of Mansfield.

Yesterday Edwin Balyeat president of the J. A. C. announced that his organization was beginning work on a recreation center though not as large as they would like to have at least a start for the present.

The J A C announcement followed the juvenile court hearing of

HE'S WORRIED

Fisher Fears Liquor Thefts Will Boost Insurance Rates.

COLUMBUS — (UP) — State Liquor Department officials today expressed fear that a wave of burglaries in state liquor stores may force the state to pay higher insurance rates for protection of its liquor stores and warehouses.

State liquor outlets have been burglarized 30 times this year and the liquor department has filed claims for $14,467 with the Indemnity Insurance Company of America, with which loss from theft was insured for $8,000.

Liquor Director Don A. Fisher said the contract will not expire for nearly two years and no notice of cancellation has been received, but he expressed "great concern" because the contract may be cancelled on 60 days written notice by either party.

FDR Clips Wings of Wallace and Jones

Abolishes BEW, Removes RFC's Foreign Financing Powers, Says Future Squabblers Will Be Fired.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Sharply denouncing the row between Vice President Wallace and Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones, President Roosevelt stripped both of broad powers and served notice today that anyone else in his official family who feuds in public will be fired.

For almost three weeks, Mr. Roosevelt watched—as he said with surprise—Wallace and Jones slam each other in print over methods of stockpiling strategic war materials.

Last night, in about the same vein that he pronounced "a plague on both your houses" when rival labor unions were warring a few years ago, the president cracked down. In a sweeping order, he:

1. Abolished the Board of Economic Warfare (BEW), of which Wallace was the policy-making head.

2 Took away from Jones Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), four major agencies dealing with foreign purchasing.

3 Establishing a new office of Economic Warfare (OWE) with

WORK TO START SOON ON 4 JOBS

R-42 Improvement, Paving on Three Other State Routes Begins In Two Weeks.

Work will be started within the next two weeks on four major street improvements, including the widening of the intersection of South Main street and Lexington avenue to eliminate a traffic bottleneck.

The improvements include the widening and resurfacing of nearly four miles of state routes within the corporation limits.

Total cost of the work will amount to $69,141, according to Carl Stander, president of the Mansfield Asphalt Company which was awarded the contract for the work today by the state highway department. The The state's estimate amounted to $69,150.

Stander said that although the

Willkie Will Run Again, If Bertie Enters Primary

NEW YORK —(AP)— Wendell L Willkie will be a candidate for the 1944 Republican presidential nomination—if Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, enters the Illinois preferential primary next April.

The 1940 GOP nominee showed his hand yesterday, challenging McCormick to a campaign for the Illinois primary vote.

Willkie, in an interview, was asked:

"Have you seen reports that Colonel McCormick may run in the Illinois primary for the Republican presidential nomination?"

"Yes," was his written reply, "I certainly hope it is true. For then I could really make the issue clear—the greatest issue of the day—American relations to the rest of the world are liberal internal domestic policies."

Asked if he would enter other preferential primaries, Willkie said that could be decided later. McCormick, in Canada, has not commented on the request that he enter the primary.

PROMISES AID

New Martinique Chief Says Island Will Help Allies.

FORT DE FRANCE, Martinique —(INS)— Full co-operation of the Island of Martinique in the United Nations war effort was assured today by Henri Etienne Hoppenot, former director of French civil services in Washington, soon after his arrival here to take over the administration from Admiral Georges Robert.

"This administration," Hoppenot said, "will do everything possible to assist the war effort of the United Nations."

The French Committee of National Liberation, he said, will take over $40,000,000 in gold found still intact in the state bank of Fort de France.

MEDWICK SOLD

Outfielder Goes to Giants at $7,500 Waiver Price.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Joe Medwick, Brooklyn outfielder, today was sold to the New York Giants for the waiver price of $7,500.

Eddie Brannick, secretary of the Giants, said that no other players were involved and that the veteran player, who broke into the majors with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1932, would report to the Giants in Philadelphia tomorrow.

FOXY: Yanks Outwit Japs to Seize Mubo, Key to Salamaua

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(U P)—A light U S. surface craft bombarded Japanese positions on Kiska again yesterday morning, the navy announced today. This was the fifth shelling this month of the Japanese positions on Kiska, only remaining enemy base in the Aleutians. The enemy did not return the fire.

(By Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC—Outwitting the wily Japanese at his own jungle game of stealing up from behind, American and Australian fighters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur held the Mubo gateway to Salamaua today after wiping out 950 surprised defenders in a brilliant New Guinea maneuver.

The abrupt collapse of hill positions bestride which the Japanese for months barred the way along the jungle track leading to their Salamaua air base, 12 miles to the north, was announced in a communique which also recorded a spectacular air victory.

Over Rendova island in the central Solomons, 45 Japanese planes were shot down out of a formation of approximately 80 while on nearby New Georgia American jungle fighters edged still closer to the enemy's key base of Munda.

The selfsame tactics the Japanese employed with such bewildering success against the British on their advance upon the Malay peninsula upon Singapore—infiltration to the rear—proved their undoing at Mubo.

On June 30, while the right prong of the present Pacific offensive got under way against Munda, the left prong was established by American forces who braved the treacherous reefs to land at Nassau bay on northeast New Guinea, 12 miles down the coast from Salamaua.

A highly secretive operation began at that point. Stealthily these forces, some lugging heavy guns by hand over jungle paths, moved inland along the valley of the Bitoi river toward Mubo's rear.

After Americans and Australians conquered southeastern New

GOAL: Soviets Race to Cut Rail Line To Nazis' Orel Base

(By International News Service)

MOSCOW—Rolling forward in new, striking gains in a sudden summer offensive, Red army troops today raced to slash the German-held rail line behind the main enemy base at Orel, now only 15 miles away from the Russians' main force.

With 110 towns and villages already liberated by the pincers thrust clamping down on the rail junction city of Orel, the Soviet occupied numbers of additional populated places today while their most powerful tank forces pushed on in the direction of the Orel-Bryansk line. Armored spearheads battered their way into Elnsk, only 18 miles away from this objective, as the Soviet push rolled into its fourth day.

Orel itself was blasted by Soviet warplanes Wednesday night, a belated announcement revealed, while other air squadrons loosed tons of explosive and fire bombs on enemy ammunition dumps near Volkhov.

North of Orel, the Red army widened its breach steadily in one sector, it established 27 bridgeheads across and undisclosed rived, where large forces continued to make their way over the stream despite Nazi opposition.

Dispatches reaching the capital from the front lines reported that Hitler is switching troops from the far reaches of the Orel-Kursk front and throwing them into the immediate battle area in a desperate attempt to stem the Soviet advance.

Girl Scouts Purchase Tract As 'Camp That Cookies Built'

Mansfield Girl Scouts today realized the result of four years of working and planning as the officials of their organization finished final legal processes for the purchase of "the camp that cookies built."

In four years and four annual cookie sales the scouts built up a fund to buy a camp site; in four days the scout leaders picked out the site, looked it over and bought it. And there is still money left in the fund.

The camp site includes 74 acres on Walker Lake road and a three-room cabin. Just four days ago it belonged to Joseph Etzwiler. Tuesday the Girl Scout council visited the site which they were then considering and after returning from the viewing voted to buy the property. Tuesday afternoon the legal proceedings were under way and this morning the deed was in the hands of the scout executives.

Mrs. Louis Lamoreux, chairman of the camp committee, said today, "For four years the girls have been selling cookies and made up a fund of $2,200 from the sale of 25,000 boxes of cookies. We have felt recently that the increasing number of scouts make it impossible to use our present camping facilities."

Planes From Baby Flat-Top Bag 10 Nazi Submarines

WASHINGTON—(AP)—In a series of anti-submarine battles in the North Atlantic, the planes of a single baby aircraft carrier recently successfully attacked ten German submarines, definitely destroying two and probably destroying eight others, and delivered two convoys safely across the Atlantic to American forces poised for actions against Hitler Europe.

The story of the gallant little flat top, officially designated only as "Carrier B," was told by the navy today in a detailed account of how these auxiliary floating air fields are helping to clinch victory for the United Nations in the vital battle of the Atlantic.

Altogether, the carrier's accomplishments included attacks on 11 submarines, with ten sunk or probably sunk, dispersing of two wolf packs which struck at two different times at war-laden cargo ships, the capture of 41 German prisoners and the safe delivery of the vital war goods. One submarine got away.

"All ships in the convoys protected by escort Carrier 'B' reached their destinations undamaged," the navy proudly announced.

TEST FIZZLES

Only One Signal Relayed In Air Raid Drill.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— A surprise test air raid drill which was called last night for 10 counties in the Dayton area "fizzled out," State Defense Director Ralph H. Stone reported today.

"Through some mix-up, only the first signal was relayed," Stone related.

RAILS SLIP IN EARLY MARKET PROCEEDINGS

Retail Trade Continues on Relatively Brisk Scale Throughout Nation.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Rails continued to slip in today's early stock market proceedings but a number of industrial leaders displayed mild recovery signs.

A quiet opening fractional advances were posted for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Sperry, Yellow Truck, North American and Phelps Dodge.

Continuance of relatively brisk retail spending throughout the country in the current week, as summarized by Dun & Bradstreet, served as an encouraging indicator for holders of merchandising shares. For the nation as a whole it was estimated that dollar volume increased 8 to 14 per cent above a year ago.

CHICAGO —(AP)— The downward trend in grains was resumed at the start today on further selling prompted by yesterday's statement of Price Administrator Prentiss Brown that there would be no upward revision in corn ceilings.

Wheat started ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, July $1.44⅛, September $1.44⅝-½, and rye was ⅜ to 1 cent lower, September $1.07-1.06⅞.

FDR SPANKS JONES, WALLACE

Removes Their Powers, Says Future Squabblers Will Be Fired.

4. Told all administrative officials that any time they disagree with another agency and "feel you should sumbit it to the press, I ask that when you release the statement for publication, you send to me a letter of resignation." Minor officeholders who violate this are to be dismissed by their superiors, promptly, the president added.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized he was not deciding who was right in the battle which flared into the open June 29 and grew hotter and hotter by the day

The president, in letters to Wallace and Jones, said there wasn't time in the midst of war to find out "where the truth lies" in such matters. The important thing, he wrote was to "clear the decks and to get on with the war at once . . A fresh start with new men, unencumbered by interagency dissension and bitterness."

Both principals accepted the president's rebuk without argument

Wallace commented: "In war time, no one should question the overall wisdom of the commander-in-chief"

Said Jones

"I concur most heartily in the president's determination to have harmony and cooperation . The new director will find the affairs of all RFC agencies engaged in foreign purchases in excellent condition . functioning with a maximum of efficiency and at a minimum of expense"

Jones pledged cooperation to Crowley whom he described as the best qualified man for the job.

Crowley himself had nothing to say, except to accept the assignment

The reorganization shifts BEW's 4,000 employes to the new setup, along with RFC's commercial corporation, the rubber development corporation, the petroleum reserve corporation, export-import bank, and lesser agencies dealing with foreign purchase financing.

Disagreements between Wallace and Jones over policy go back many months though under cover until the vice president issued a 28-page blast on June 29 in which he accused the white-thatched Texas, banker of "obstructing" BEW The next day, both were called to the White House where James F Byrnes, presidential right hand man, sought to make peace.

In a matter of hours, however, Wallace repeated in another statement that the RFC delayed the war effort though he tempered it by saying he never intended to question Jones' patriotism. Six-foot-two Jesse met the challenge, called Wallace's words "dastardly"

Jones waited until July 5 then threw 7,500 stinging words of rebuke at Wallace whom he accused of malice, innuendo, "half-truths and no truths at all."

THEATERS

Bataan Opens.

Thirteen American soldiers, facing hordes of Japanese invaders, battle grimly to stave off the oncoming enemy in defense of the Philippines, in "Bataan," which opens tomorrow at the Ohio for a week's engagement. The picture, it is said, shows exactly what the heroes in the islands went through. Robert Taylor heads a cast that includes George Murphy, Thomas Mitchell, Lloyd Nolan, Lee Bowman, Robert Walker, Desi Arnaz, Barry Nelson, Philip Terry, Tom Dugan and Kenneth Spencer. A swampy jungle is the scene of the action.

Canteen Held Over.

Madison Manager Harold Old has announced that "Stage Door Canteen" has been held over in Mansfield by popular demand and has been switched from the Ohio to the Madison. The picture will start Saturday and run through Tuesday at the down town Warner Brothers theater. "Stage Door Canteen" stars Cheryl Walker and William Terry in the top roles with more than 40 leading stars of screen, stage and radio playing small parts. The previously scheduled Madison films, "It's a Great Life" and "Flight For Freedom," will be re-scheduled at a later date, Old said.

Roy Rogers at Park.

Heralded as "King of the Cowboys," Roy Rogers' latest Republic western is named after Roy himself "King of the Cowboys" is now playing at the Park. Rogers first came to prominence when he organized the "Sons of the Pioneers," western band which is still flourishing. Republic signed him in 1938 and awarded him immediately the starring role in "Under Western Stars." He has made nearly 40 pictures since that Other Park picture is "Mantrap."

AKRON STRIKE IN SECOND DAY

Buses, Street Cars Idle as Three-Sided Effort Fails To End Walkout.

vacations of one week after one year and two weeks after the second year.

Denied by the panel were requests for time and a half for sixth day work, checkoff of union dues, and payment of time and a half for six specific holidays a year, and several minor issues.

Another Akron strike was ended last night, when 120 striking CIO United Rubber workers resumed work in the General Tire and Rubber company band room.

The walkout made more than 700 other employes idle because of stock shortages, and ended after Emmett B. Harper, local union president, disclaimed responsibility "for whatever action might be taken against any of our members involved" in the strike.

The company earlier notified the band room workers they would be considered as having quit their jobs and would be dropped from the payroll if they did not report today.

In an effort to end a stoppage by 350 CIO United Steelworkers in the Timken Roller Bearing company's Canton Steel Mill, Col J H Malone, labor chief of the army's Fifth Service Command, last night asked the war manpower commission to extend the deadline for the company's switching to the 48-hour week.

The walkout Wednesday followed readjustment of a mill recorder's working schedule and his replacement of a woman in the mill division, union leaders said. Federal Conciliator A. T Pinkney said the unionists objected to the schedule changes on the grounds workers would be downgraded in some instances and others would be out of jobs.

NUTRITION MEETING

A discussion concerning nutrition was held at the sixth meeting of the Merry Stitchers 4-H club this week During a short business meeting plans were made for the July 28 meeting at which time the club members will be given their health examinations.

Meets Tonight — The Richland Victory Civic committee will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Farmer's bank building for its regular meeting.

WORK TO START SOON ON 4 JOBS

R-42 Improvement, Paving on Three Other State Routes Begins In Two Weeks.

company has 20 days in which to commence work, preliminary construction on the South Main street intersection would be started before that time so that resurfacing can be started within three weeks. The contract calls for completion of the four jobs by Nov. 15.

Resurfacing of U. S. Route 42 will take in the highway from Central park to Cook road, the roadway to be widened eight feet from Glessner avenue for a short distance on Lexington avenue, and the widening of Lexington avenue two feet from Davis road to Cook road. That section of the roadway is now 22 feet in width.

Also included in the resurfacing of South Main street, State Route 13, from Lexington avenue to the southern corporation line, Marion avenue, State Route 545, from Glessner avenue to Cline avenue, and Park avenue west, U. S. Route 30-S, from West Park boulevard to Linden road.

All resurfacing will be asphalt.

SECRET AGENT X-9

X-9 IS QUIZZING GILDA ABOUT THE MURDERED MAN FOUND IN HER DRESSING-ROOM.
ALL I REMEMBER, X-9, IS THAT HE CAME INTO MY ROOM, AFTER THE PERFORMANCE AND ASKED ME TO TAKE CARE OF SOME PAPERS—
SUDDENLY HE WAS SHOT. THEN MY MIND WENT BLANK.
YOU NEVER SAW HIM BEFORE?
WE'VE ESTABLISHED THE IDENTITY OF THE MURDERED MAN. HE'S DON PAO, THE AMBASSADOR OF.....
HE'S THE MAN WHO JUST ARRIVED FROM TOKIO WITH HIS WIFE!
KEEP MISS GILDA HERE, BELINDA. I'M GOING TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT.
YOU SAY, X-9, THE AMBASSADOR, DON PAO, WAS MURDERED? THAT INVOLVES A NEUTRAL COUNTRY.
WERE YOU EXPECTING HIM TO MAKE ANY KIND OF CONFIDENTAL REPORT TO YOU, SIR?
INDEED! HE WAS TO COME TODAY WITH A SECRET LIST OF THE MEMBERS OF OUR UNDERGROUND MOVEMENT IN THE PHILIPPINES. THIS IS A GREAT LOSS!
WHAT ABOUT HIS WIFE, SIR?
QUICKER, MARIA.... QUICKER. WE MUST NOT MISS THIS PLANE.
CALM YOURSELF, SEÑORA DON PAO. NO ONE KNOWS YOU ARE LEAVING.
I'LL GO AND TELL SEÑORA DON PAO THAT HER HUSBAND, THE AMBASSADOR, HAS BEEN FOUND MURDERED, SIR.
PARDON ME, THE PHONE.
X-9— I AM INFORMED THAT SEÑORA DON PAO HAS JUST LEFT ON THE CLIPPER. SHE'S PROBABLY TAKEN THE LIST WITH HER!
THIS CALLS FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION!
7-14
AT F.B.I. HEADQUARTERS.
AMBASSADOR DON PAO HAD A LIST OF THE MEMBERS OF OUR UNDERGROUND MOVEMENT IN THE PHILIPPINES, CHIEF. HIS WIFE JUST TOOK THE CLIPPER BACK TO HER COUNTRY.
GREAT SCOTT! IT'S A NEUTRAL COUNTRY! SHE CAN TURN IT OVER TO THE JAP AMBASSADOR THERE. THEY'LL MURDER EVERYONE OF THEM.
HOP ON THE NEXT PLANE! GET THAT LIST BACK!
X-9 PURSUES SEÑORA DON PAO, WHO IS ON THE CLIPPER, RACING TO HER COUNTRY WITH A LIST OF MEMBERS OF OUR UNDERGROUND MOVEMENT IN THE PHILIPPINES.....
IS THAT THE CLIPPER LANDING ON THE WATER RIGHT BELOW US?
THAT'S RIGHT, SIR!
SUDDENLY THE CLIPPER UP-ENDS AND BURSTS INTO FLAME.....
X-9'S PLANE TAXIES UP CLOSE TO THE BURNING CLIPPER. THE G-MAN DIVES TO AID IN THE RESCUE.
7-16
HELP! SEÑOR!
I'M WILLING TO SAVE ANYBODY, BUT I HOPE IT'S SEÑORA DON PAO..
HANG ON!
OH! IT IS SEÑORA PAO!..... THE SEÑORA WILL REMEMBER THIS ACT OF KINDNESS, SEÑOR AMERICANO!
SHE'LL BE ALL RIGHT!
BUT, MARIA, WHAT IS THE NAME OF THIS HANDSOME AMERICANO YOU SAY SAVED MY LIFE IN THE PLANE ACCIDENT?
I DO NOT KNOW, SEÑORA PAO! I DID NOT ASK HIM!
GO TO ALL THE HOTELS. BRING HIM HERE! I MUST THANK HIM, MYSELF!
THE DOOR-BELL IS RINGING!
7-17
OH, SEÑORA PAO!.... IT IS THE AMERICANO!

MISS BETH, IF I DIDN'T KNOW YOU SO GOOD, I'D SAY YOU WAS PRANKIN' WID ME!
BECAUSE I SAID WE'D CALLED ON MRS. BETT'S? WHAT'S SO FUNNY ABOUT THAT?
7-12
HONEY, DAT WOMAN AIN'T ALLOWED NO ONE ON DOSE PREMISES DESE MANY LONG YEARS.
WHY, SHE WAS PERFECTLY LOVELY TO US!
NOW DON'T DAT BEAT DE BAND! WHO'D THINK A CRAZY WOMAN WOULD ACT DAT WAY?
CRAZY WOMAN! NOW IT'S YOU WHO ARE FOOLING!
FORGRAVE
NO'M, I AIN'T FOOLIN'! EV'BODY SAY MRS. BETTS ACT LIKE SHE FLINNY IN DE HEAD!
SURELY, THEY MUST BE MISTAKEN!
7-13
DAT'S WHAT DEY SAY! SHE STAY IN DAT HOUSE AND DON'T SEE NOBODY FROM ONE YEAR'S END TO THE OTHER!
WELL, NOW, SHE DID SAY SHE WAS TERRIBLY LONESOME!
SHE'S BEEN DAT WAY EVER SINCE SHE GOT HERSELF MARRIED AN' HER HUSBAN' ACT LIKE HE DID!
HER HUSBAND? WHAT HAPPENED, UNCLE ED? WHAT DID HE DO?
FORGRAVE
DEY AIN'T MUCH I KIN TELL YOU 'BOUT DE TROUBLES MRS. BETTS HAD WID HER HUSBAN'. IT HAPPEN' SO LONG AGO DAT I FERGITS DE FRILLS.
7-14
BUT DEY WAS TROUBLE O' SOME KIND WHEN DEY WAS OFF ON DEIR HONEYMOON. SEEM LIKE MONEY HAD SUMP'N' TO DO WID IT.
ANYWAY, SHE CAME HOME BY HERSELF AND LOCK' HERSELF UP IN DAT OL' HOUSE AND DERE SHE BEEN EVER SINCE!
FORGRAVE
MRS. BETTS WAS RICH ONCE, WASN'T SHE, UNCLE ED?
SHE RICH YET, SO DEY SAY. BUT SEEM LIKE SHE DON'T SPEND NONE OF IT.
7-15
SOME THINK SHE GOT ALL HER MONEY HID IN DAT HOUSE YOU SAW ALL DEM BARS ON DE WINDOWS?
YES. I WONDERED ABOUT THEM!
DAT'S SO NOBODY CAN GIT IN AN' GIT IT. DAT'S WHY FOLKS SAY SHE AIN'T RIGHT IN DE HEAD. CRAZY 'BOUT DE MONEY!
SO! THAT'S IT? WELL, PLENTY OF PEOPLE ARE CRAZY IN THE SAME WAY!
FORGRAVE
I'D JUST LIKE TO KNOW WHAT HAPPENED TO MRS. BETTS ON HER HONEYMOON TO MAKE HER COME HOME ALONE AND LIVE SUCH A LONELY LIFE!
7-16
IT MUST HAVE BEEN SOMETHING PRETTY AWFUL TO SADDEN HER SO. AND BECAUSE SHE LIVES ALONE, THEY SAY SHE'S CRAZY.
SUCH NONSENSE! SHE'S NO MORE CRAZY THAN I AM! PEOPLE HAVE JUST FORGOTTEN TO BE KIND TO HER, BECAUSE THEY DON'T SEE HER, THAT'S THE SIZE OF IT.
FORGRAVE
YES, NOW I RECALL THE STORY IN A SKETCHY WAY. WHEN MRS. BETTS MARRIED THIS MAN SHE PLACED HER FORTUNE IN HIS HANDS TO MANAGE
BUT HE WAS A SCOUNDREL. ON THEIR HONEYMOON HE TRIED TO CAUSE HER DEATH AND MAKE IT LOOK ACCIDENTAL.
BUT HIS PLANS WENT WRONG. WHEN HE WAS ARRESTED, IT WAS FOUND HE WAS WANTED FOR OTHER CRIMES. HE IS STILL SERVING TIME.

I GUESS I'M THE WORLD'S CHAMPION JINX! THREE TIMES MY UNKNOWN BENEFACTOR LEFT MONEY FOR ME TO INVEST AND EACH TIME I LOST BY NOT FOLLOWING HIS ADVICE!
CASPER, IS THAT SOMEONE ON THE PORCH?
S-SH-IT MAY BE THE MYSTERIOUS STRANGER!
7-12
IT'S ONLY THE MILKMAN! I GUESS MY UNKNOWN FRIEND IS THROUGH WITH ME!
IF HE EVER LEAVES ME ANY MORE MONEY, I'LL INVEST IT ANY WAY HE SUGGESTS--EVEN IN A SNOWPLOW COMPANY ON THE EQUATOR!
JIMMY MURPHY
TOOTS, EVEN THOUGH I MISSED THE BOAT ON THOSE THREE GOOD TIPS THE MYSTERIOUS STRANGER, GAVE ME, I STILL HAVE THE $1600 HE LEFT UNDER MY DOOR!
I WONDER IF HE'LL EVER COME BACK AGAIN---THERE'S SOMEBODY AT THE DOOR NOW!
I'M ANXIOUS TO GET A LOOK AT THE GUY WHO-EVER HE IS!
7-13
JIMMY MURPHY
HOWDY, CASPER. I'LL BET YOU'RE SURPRISED TO SEE ME!
EZRA POOCHEY! SAY, I WANT TO ASK YOU A FEW QUESTIONS!
UNCLE EVERETT!
HELLO, CASPER, I'M IN TOWN FOR A SHORT VISIT!
COME IN AND SAY HELLO TO EZRA POOCHEY, HE JUST BEAT YOU HERE!
7-14
SOMEBODY LEFT $1600 UNDER CASPER'S DOOR, AND HE THINKS I KNOW SOMETHING ABOUT IT!
KEEP THIS UNDER YOUR HAT, EZRA -- I DID IT, JUST TO TEST HIM BEFORE I LEAVE MY FORTUNE TO HIM!
SO IT WAS UNCLE EVERETT! NOW I'M OUTA LUCK! WHEN HE LEARNS I FAILED TO CARRY OUT HIS INSTRUCTIONS, HE'LL CUT ME OUT OF HIS WILL!
JIMMY MURPHY

BOY, AM I ON A SPOT! WAIT TILL UNCLE EVERETT FINDS OUT I HELD ON TO THAT MONEY INSTEAD OF TAKING HIS ADVICE!
YOU WERE RIGHT, TOOTS! I SHOULD HAVE FOLLOWED THE INSTRUCTIONS IN THOSE NOTES! I WOULD HAVE MADE A SMALL FORTUNE!
INSTEAD, ALL I HAVE IS THE $1600 THAT WAS LEFT UNDER THE DOOR!
I WISH UNCLE EVERETT WOULD SAY SOMETHING AND GET IT OVER WITH! I CAN'T STAND THIS SUSPENSE!
I'M SURE HE'LL HAVE PLENTY TO SAY WHEN HE FINDS OUT WHAT HAPPENED!
JIMMY MURPHY
CASPER, LAST WEEK I LEFT SOME ANONYMOUS NOTES UNDER YOUR DOOR WITH $1600 CASH AND INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO INVEST IT!
ER--YES UNCLE EVERETT!
NO DOUBT YOU FOLLOWED THE INSTRUCTIONS! HOW MUCH MONEY HAVE YOU NOW?
ALL I HAVE IS THE ORIGINAL $1600!!
HERE IT IS, UNCLE EVERETT!
CASPER DECIDED TO RELY ON HIS OWN JUDGMENT! HE THOUGHT THE INVESTMENTS SUGGESTED WERE OF THE WILDCAT VARIETY!
7-16
AND HE WAS RIGHT! BY AN EXTRAORDINARY COINCIDENCE THEY ALL HAPPENED TO PAY OFF, BUT IT COULDN'T HAPPEN AGAIN IN A MILLION YEARS! CASPER SHOWED SOUND JUDGMENT IN STEERING CLEAR OF SPECULATIVE INVESTMENTS!
JIMMY MURPHY
CASPER YOU ARE TO BE CONGRATULATED ON YOUR GOOD JUDGMENT! NOW I KNOW MY ESTATE WILL BE SAFE IN YOUR HANDS!
I'M GLAD YOU FEEL THAT WAY ABOUT IT, UNCLE EVERETT!
IF YOU HAD FALLEN FOR ALL THOSE WILD TIPS, YOU WOULD EVENTUALLY LOSE EVERYTHING!
THERE GOES UNCLE EVERETT! BY THE WAY, CASPER, DID HE TAKE BACK THE $1600?
NO--HE SAID I COULD KEEP IT!
AND EVERY PENNY OF IT IS GOING INTO WAR BONDS!
UNCLE EVERETT WAS RIGHT WHEN HE SAID YOU HAD GOOD FINANCIAL JUDGMENT!

HOUR OF GRACE +++

By Margaret Gorman Nichols

(Copyright, 1943)

PROLOGUE

She wondered if in later years her finding Clare dead and wondering who had killed her would seem as a dream. In these days of early nineteen forty-three so much had happened in the world and to her to accelerate time that often it seemed less than a year she had come upon Clare dead and stood in frozen terror lest she, Meegan, in a blind unaccountable moment had killed her. There were moments when the memory was so sharply clear and close that it was as if it had happened only yesterday. . . . Perhaps for a long time it would come and go, at times a sharp recent reality, at other times a vague dream until in the future both the dream and the reality would vanish and leave her free at last of Clare.

Here in a small southern town and in the small informal hotel to which they had come to live after their marriage there was nothing to remind her of Clare Nor was Clare's name ever spoken. The island was far away and the summer that had brought Clare home to die would never come again. It was gone as surely as the smug, false sense of security some Americans had felt before Pearl Harbor.

And she had been so happy, so exquisitely happy that often it seemed not quite right to be so happy in the tumult of war There was tumult here, for the army post was not far distant and the little town was always filled with the soldiers of war and the talk of war.

She was an officer's wife. She was another war bride following her husband as far as she could. There was a saying among service wives that they would follow their husbands "as far as they go." There were many war brides here and often she wondered if they thought that the war had precipitated her marriage as it had theirs. How little they realized the intricate world events that had eventually brought her as his wife to this town.

They had a large sunny room with French windows that opened out to a balcony Below the balcony was a garden still in bloom, for here the mild winter came late And there on the balcony their meals were served to them, breakfast and luncheon in the sun, dinner in the lush, southern semi-darkness It was not a setting they would have chosen for themselves. Had there not been a war they would never have come to this town and to this room But since there was a war and this was their temporary home they could not imagine a setting more perfect for themselves or more in keeping with their feelings

Soon he would come back from the post. She would go out on the balcony and wait for him, straining her eyes to see him at a distance on Main street so that she could follow him all the way home. She knew the sound of his footsteps so well that she could close her eyes and know that certain oncoming steps were his. For he came quickly, eagerly to her. And sometimes as today when he was late she thought of the beginning of the summer of nineteen forty-one and how her being here with him now as his wife had come to be . . .

CHAPTER I

She saw it as she sat at the dining room table on her first morning at the island . . . "Mr. and Mrs. Fayne Christopher who recently have been living in New York will occupy the house of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Haynie on Stuart island for the summer" . . . So they were coming back after five spectacular years lived abroad until the war, five years during which she had furtively followed them in small newspaper articles like this and through pictures of Clare, but never one of Fayne, in fashionable magazines Though she did not notice the day of the paper that morning, it was a day in May and the majority of the summer residents of that picturesque Maryland island were or would be, as she was, more interested temporarily in the return of the fabulous Christophers than in events which were marching them inevitably to war.

The stone cottage, a relic of more prosperous days when her father lived, sat sturdily atop a hill from which the whole of the island and a great part of the Chesapeake bay was visible. She had arrived from the Baltimore apartment yesterday with her mother and Toby, her brother, and all day yesterday they had diligently worked to remove the dust accumulated over almost a year and weeds grown tall and stubborn on a lawn that had once been silken smooth. The house she had known and loved as a child, the house of her happiest times, would not be theirs a year hence . . . if property values increased . Meanwhile it was as a beloved friend who takes a long while to say good-bye but who will go in the end and return no more.

She had fought against coming this year though, she had to confess, her own sentimentality had fought with her common sense. In recent years she had had to cultivate a good bit of the latter. But it had seemed to her vastly more important because it would have been vastly less expensive for her to go on with her job in Baltimore and for Toby to get another job. But he had had an appendectomy in the spring and their mother, who spoiled him always and who had never been practical while her husband lived, had been certain that Toby needed a summer in the country and that she, Meegan, could earn a little by 'mindin' other peoples' children In the end she had acquiesced, as she always did, finding it impossible to defy her mother's sweetness and gentleness and genuine concern over Toby's health. So hangers-on they were to be, objects of pity, doubtless to be invited out to dinner by their more affluent friends who knew that they had neither money nor servant. And of course, Meegan could earn money 'minding' children while their parents went to parties and danced in the club house where heretofore she had danced and she could take them to the beach and watch them paddle gleefully in the shallow water while their parents sailed the swift, graceful little boats that so colorfully dotted the bay . . . She wondered who had had the sail boat now. Perhaps it had changed names more than once since she had sold it, had had to sell it, crying over it in secret as though it had been a living thing she should know no more.

One of the odd things about her looks was that in a crowd few people would notice her or remember her. It was only after one was with her and looked long at her that she was remembered for her clear sensitive beauty and for her mind no less clear and sensitive. For in a crowd she was too slight and deceivingly fragile and there was nothing to distinguish her She was neither vivid nor fashionable But alone with her people had the habit of forgetting the subject at hand and thinking of the delicate strength of her face and the contemplation behind the brown eyes and the fair hair worn with careless grace. Moreover, she listened so well that most people who had talked at length about themselves left her with the thought that she was an immensely intelligent girl.

Her orange juice growing warm, her coffee cold, she read again of the return of the Christophers. What would Adele, with whom she was playing tennis this morning, say about the return of Clare whom she hated with a hate unmitigated by time? Poor, plain Adele who still loved a dead boy and whose vital hatred of Clare was understandable when one realized that her loneliness and unhappiness had been fuel to keep her hate alive. They would all be thinking about Clare this morning In the club house, over bridge tables, at the bar, on the beach and golf course over the telephone and even in the servant's quarters they would talk of nothing else Newcomers would be told the legend of Clare and her marriage in the quaint, ivy-covered island church on a June day five years ago Meegan thought, I was so young then . . . But it's a day I've never forgotten I've never been able to forget Fayne Christopher either

Her mother and Toby were still asleep. She finished breakfast and washed the dishes and laid their places Then she got her racquet and left the house and walked down the gently rolling hill, a moving white silhouette against the blue morning sky. But she was tense at the thought of meeting Adele and dreaded the revival of the tragedy of young Jerry O'Neill.

With her unfailing punctuality Adele was waiting. A tall, big-boned, athletic girl with thick features and small eyes, she was sitting on the edge of the court wearing her old blue shorts and a wrinkled white cotton blouse She cared nothing for clothes and made no attempt to improve her looks nor straight dark hair. Adele had never really cared about anything, Meegan had often thought, since Jerry had died. Moreover, Meegan was certain that she cared nothing about the sports she played so savagely and well that she was always winning cups which were never displayed in the spacious town apartment where she lived with an old servant. Poor Adele who had found nothing to do except to encourage her hate and grieve for a boy who was dead.

Sure, you like Beef

—but right now, because more beef is needed for war, your red ration stamps will go further if you ask for Pork, Lamb or Sausage

The recent increase in beef point values was intended to get people to eat less beef, so the armed forces could get enough.

● War is a great beef eater. New methods of boning, freezing and shipping beef to America's fighting men have made it one of the most practical and highly demanded of all fighting foods.

● When your mouth is watering for a good steak, which you may not be able to get, remember that no man ever turned up his nose at barbecued spareribs, a hearty lamb stew with dumplings, ham hocks, lamb patties. liver sausage on rye, or a platter of cold cuts.

● Remember, every cut of meat from the royal rib roast to the most democratic soup meat has the biologically complete proteins which the whole nutritional world is stressing these days.

● Every cut of meat also contains essential B vitamins (thiamine, riboflavin, niacin) and important minerals (iron, copper, phosphorus).

● Remember, high ration point value is no guide to nutritional value. All meats contain the same nutrients.

● If we can't get beef, let's be glad we can get some of these other meats practically all of the time.

The nutritional essentials of meat (proteins, B vitamins, minerals) are not stored in the body to any appreciable extent. They must be supplied in the daily foods we eat.

The Seal means that all nutritional statements made in the advertisement are acceptable to the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY ON MEAT

Q. What should I pay for Meat?

A. Don't go over the ceiling prices set by the government. These prices, cut by cut, are displayed in your meat market, where you can see them. Your meat man should not ask more than the ceiling, you should not pay more. If you do you are helping the Black Market.

Q. What is "playing ball" with ration stamps?

A. These are the three Honor Rules of red ration stamps—

1. Don t buy any meat without proper number of stamps.
2. Destroy unused or expired stamps
3. These stamps are yours to use—not yours to give or sell.

Q. Can't I get along with less meat in hot weather?

A. This notion has been completely disproved by modern nutrition, which teaches that protein requirements do not vary appreciably, regardless of season, temperature or climate The human body is the same summer and winter Its protein needs are the same, whether you sit at a desk or work in a garden.

Q. What do you mean by "making the most of meat"?

A. It means a sharp knife and cutting the pieces thinner

It means everybody cleaning the plate every time

It means looking on leftover meat as a basic treasury of future meals

It means a lot more 'part-meat' dishes—extending the flavor and nutrients of meat through meat stews, meat pies, croquettes, casserole dishes and other good old-fashioned thrift dishes which the war has brought to modern tables

HERE'S HELP

Send for the new booklet, "128 Wartime Meat Recipes." Recipes for beef, veal, lamb, pork and sausage, including many of the less familiar cuts and what to serve with each. Suggestions for extending meats. To get this book, send 10c in coin to Dept. 70, Lock Box No. 1133, Chicago 90.

tions," the communique added.

Although the headquarters bulletin said the "speed of the advance is very satisfactory" it called attention to the limiting factor of Allied transport and supporting weapons at this stage of the operations.

The reorganized Hermann Goering tank division of the Germans had suffered heavy losses in attempting to oppose the British push toward Catania, headquarters reports said, but the German 15th armored division was known to be in reserve.

However, observers expressed the opinion that the enemy, with only limited and doubtful forces at his disposal, had staked most of his resources in this effort to hold the Allies south of Catania and that his defenses were disintegrating.

They expressed confidence that with "an appreciable number of tanks" already in Sicily the Allies would be able to deal satisfactorily with any counter-attack the enemy might mount.

In addition it was said Allied air-borne and sea-borne reinforcements were likely to arrive, and strong naval forces continued to support the British right flank from the sea.

In their latest action, Allied warships again shelled Catania, and a destroyer accounted for another enemy motor torpedo boat.

Taking of Vizzini put Gen Patton's men astride the central highway connecting the Axis' eastern and western front. Vizzini is on the slopes of the Iblei mountains and about 25 miles west of Augusta.

The American Seventh army, in fanning out over a deepening expanse of its long coastal strip, had captured 15,992 prisoners.

Meanwhile the overpowering air strength of the Allies was thrown afresh into a series of paralyzing blows, both at the Italian mainland and Sicily itself.

An assault in the last 24 hours on Naples, comparable to the previous day's strike at Messina, turned a two-mile long, mile wide waterfront area of the biggest Italian port city into a smoking inferno.

An ammunition train exploded and docks, warehouses and locomotives burned furiously, and smoke hung in the air to a height of 20,000 feet after the arsenal was hit.

This was after bombers hit the port Wednesday night, attacking airdromes, docks and railway facilities, and after unescorted Flying Fortresses had continued the assault by daylight.

Palermo docks also were severely pounded by medium bombers during the day, and Paterno, a focal point of enemy communications, came in for a heavy blow by night.

Meanwhile, approximately 70 Liberators from the Middle East were said in a United States communique to have "made a flaming shambles of the main and two satellite" airfields at Foggia on the spur of the Italian boot.

Flying in three waves, the Liberators dropped nearly 400,000 pounds of high explosives, fragmentation and incendiary bombs, covering parts of the main airfield with bursts, and burning at least 30 planes at all three airdromes.

The Liberators also started huge fires in wooded areas.

Four-engined RAF Halifaxes from the Middle East continued the assault on Messina Wednesday night, finding fires still raging that had been set in the previous 24 hours.

In a steady attrition of enemy shipping, Allied planes torpedoed a large merchantship off the north coast of Sardinia, and severely damaged at least three others

Well in advance of the rolling Allied troops British and American air-borne and parachute forces swooped from the skies to knock out centers of enemy resistance and pave the way for the oncoming tank and infantry units

(The German radio reported 10,000 Allied parachute troops had dropped behind Axis lines on the Catania plain and that all had "been disposed of")

The enemy still had not developed resistance on the scale the invaders had expected and for which they had been prepared.

A seven-mile thrust by Americans through mountain territory on the central front engulfed strategic upland positions in the Vizzini area 25 miles northeast of the beach head forged by U. S. forces at Scoglitte.

In the Vizzini region the American Seventh army, commanded by Lieut. Gen. George S Patton, jr., thus is linked with British and Canadian forces comprising Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army.

To the west, the Americans, some of whom Associated Press Correspondent John A. Morosо reported last night in a delayed dispatch went direct from the United States to the invasion shore, have captured the towns of Campobello and Riesi above the Licata bridgehead and are menacing Caltagirone, northeast of Gela.

The Eighth army, after repulsing a German tank attack that carried almost to the captured port of Augusta on the shores of the Ionian sea, has subdued Melilli, southwest of Augusta, and Brucoli, four miles to the north, and is driving along the coast toward Lentini.

At Lentini, in the foothills at the edge of Catania plain, the German-Italian defenders are reported massing to bar the Allied surge toward Catania, Sicily's second largest city and halfway point on the route up the east coast to Messina, Axis supply doorway to the island.

The Italians, expressing every indication of being glad to be out of the war, are surrendering in droves.

One correspondent with the Americans in the west reported the enemy position with regards to ammunition and supply already appears to be serious. This same correspondent said the Germans had deliberately shelled surrendering Italians.

Another American newspaperman, John Gunther, declared Italian aircraft is mostly out of date, their tanks "are a miserable joke" and their artillery "ludicrous." Italian ration boxes, he wrote, were found with a layer of provisions on top and gravel in the bottom. Many tins of meat were spoiled.

RAF Blasts French Motor Factory

LONDON—(AP)—Halifax bombers of the RAF attacked the Peugeot motor vehicle works at Montbeliard in eastern France last night, the air ministry announced today.

The Peugeot motor works produce two ton trucks and the output was second only to that of the Renault plant before the latter was flattened by air attack.

Montbeliard is located about 10 miles south of Belfort in eastern France, near the Swiss border, and the German radio said in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press that the raiders had violated Swiss territory.

Seven bombers were listed as missing One enemy plane was shot down.

Keeping up the air offensive, two waves of Allied planes swung across Dover strait this morning in the direction of Boulogne and Calais.

At least a dozen airfields were plastered with bombs and strafed with machine gun fire and 20 locomotives were shot up last night, an air ministry announcement said.

Ohioan Describes Italian Fighting

WITH AMERICAN INVASION TROOPS IN SICILY, July 12—(Delayed) —(AP)— As German and Italian prisoners streamed to the rear of invading Allied forces on Sicily, Lt. Col. Kenneth Cunin of Alliance, O., summed up the Italian will to fight thus:

"As long as the Italian is well emplaced, as long as he can see you and knows where you are, he will fight like hell. But once you surprise him and get the jump on him or get behind him, he folds up like that."

Colonel Cunin snapped his fingers to illustrate.

His observations to an Associated Press war correspondent, Don Whitehead, followed 10 savage hours of fighting on the American front July 11 to stem enemy attacks that penetrated to within 1,000 yards of a vital beachhead trines which have brought Italy to her present position."

The release of the joint statement, which followed several informal invitations in recent months that Italy get out of the war, was the signal for a propaganda drive which included the dropping of thousands of leaflets on Italy by Allied bombers in addition to beaming the message to the people of Italy by radio.

Asserting that Germany's hopes for world conquest "have been blasted on all fronts," the joint statement declared the skies over Italy are dominated by vast Allied air armadas and Italy's coasts are threatened "by the greatest accumulation of British and Allied seapower ever concentrated in the Mediterranean."

They added:

"Every moment that you resist the combined forces of the United Nations—every drop of blood that you sacrifice—can serve only one purpose; to give the Fascist and Nazi leaders a little more time to escape from the inevitable consequences of their own crimes."

The 600-word message concluded:

"The time has now come for you, the Italian people, to consult your own self respect and your own desire for a restoration of national dignity, security and peace. The time has come for you to decide whether Italians shall die for Mussolini and Hitler—or live for Italy and for civilization."

per cent of all food items are affected.

Food stores are classed in four groups depending on annual sales volume:

Group 1—Independent retail outlets with volume less than $50,000.

Group 2—Independent retail outlets with volume $50,000 to $250,000.

Group 3—Retail outlets other than independent retail stores with volume less than $250,000

Group 4—Any retail outlet with an annual gross sales volume of $250,000 or more.

Stores are required to post a sign indicating its classification and the selling price of each item of food covered by the regulation, the OPA said.

Local and national brands of the following products are now priced under the community dollar-and-cents program: dry groceries—bread, hot and cold cereals, butter and lard, coffee, package flour, honey, macaroni and spaghetti, noodles, shortening, cooking and salad oils, sugar, and syrup; canned fruits and vegetables—wax and green beans, corn, pears, tomatoes, tomato juice, baby food, peaches, pears, Hawaiian pineapple, and prunes; evaporated and fluid milk; processed and frozen salt-water fish, and poultry.

Guinea in mid-January by destroying a Japanese army of 15,000, Australians had moved through the jungle north more than 150 miles toward Salamaua. But they found the Japanese entrenched on Observation Hill, Green Hill, the Pimple and other Mubo strongpoints. From spring until the current offensive, it was a stalemate.

Today's communique from General MacArthur disclosed that the Americans who moved inland from Nassau bay joined the Australians July 10 at Bulgap creek, cutting communications and isolating the Japanese on Observation and Green hills.

Observation hill was overrun after 106 tons of bombs fell among its demoralized defenders in less than 45 minutes from Allied planes. From front and rear, other enemy defenses at Mubo were stormed.

The sky fight over the Central Solomons, where the Japanese have expended more than 260 planes since the current offensive started, found the Americans shooting down more planes than they had in the air tackling the 27 enemy bombers and their escort of between 50 and 60 zeroes. Against the 45 downed, we lost three planes, and our Solomons losses to date are under 50.

In inter-island waters above Munda, one Japanese merchant ship was sunk, a second left aflame, two barges sunk and a third set on fire by roving Mitchell medium bombers.

On the enemy's garrison of Bairoko, supply port for Munda on the Kula gulf, a heavy force of divebombers poured 1,000 and 2,000 pound bombs yesterday.

The communique today also disclosed that in the second navy battle in the Kula gulf July 13, the United States destroyer Gwin was damaged so severely she sank later while being towed to port.

The latest Soviet attack, which now threatens Bryansk and German positions along the central front all the way down to Belgorod or beyond, brought large crowds out into the streets of Moscow when they first heard of the breakthrough in the Orel region.

The residents of the Soviet capital braved a heavy rainstorm to cheer the announcement that the Red army had driven forward 28 miles north of Orel and 15 miles east of that city. Informed quarters said today that the Soviets now have probably pushed forward even beyond those points and added greatly to the 14,000 casualties announced in the original comunique.

In the Belgorod region, meanwhile, the Soviet troops turned back renewed German attacks in fighting resembling that in which the Reds wrenched the initiative from the Nazis along the northern wing of the central front and paved the way for their present offensive.

German commanders rushed fresh tank and infantry units into the fighting in an attempt to score a breakthrough along the Russian line, but were beaten back with heavy losses in men and materiel. One Soviet tank formation alone destroyed 51 German tanks and more than 100 lorries while simultaneously wiping out a force of 2,000 enemy officers and men.

If every citizen would regard his newspaper as a medium for expression of his opinion, civilian public opinion could be mobilized and it could be focused on those officials who do not seem to comprehend that in war as in peace the people are supreme.—Dean Carl W. ## Wallace and Jones Rebuked By FDR

THE SPANKING which President Roosevelt has just administered to Vice President Henry A. Wallace and Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones, members of his official family, is remindful of the woodshed scutchings which stern parents of earlier days were accustomed to give badly behaved children.

As punishment for their public airing of grievances the dignified vice president of the United States and the efficient but sometimes belligerent secretary of commerce are stripped of responsibility for foreign economic warfare and a new man is put in charge of that important phase of national procedure.

The president also makes it clear to all other heads of government departments who might at some future time be inclined to behave like naughty children that, if they disobey his instructions to bring interdepartmental disputes to him "before airing them in the press," he will expect their immediate resignations.

"There is not sufficient time to investigate and determine where the truth lies in your conflicting versions," the president said in his sharp letters to Wallace and Jones, and he therefore moved to "clear the decks and get on with the war."

An encouraging point in the departmental shake-up now in progress is the recent restriction requiring that policy-making officials in the OPA must have had "at least five years of business experience" and it is hoped that some such provision may be extended to other departments so that a fair degree of efficiency can eventually be attained, rather than that government bureaus be made the dumping ground for personal or political favorites utterly lacking in qualifications for the important posts to which they are appointed—as in the case of Harry Hopkins, Frances Perkins and the like.

Recreation Center As JAC Activity

MANSFIELD'S Junior Association of Commerce merits commendation for taking the initiative in a move toward providing some form of "recreation center" for young people who have been at a loss to find "someplace to go" evenings, other than to night clubs, beer taverns or neighborhood "hangouts."

Age range for membership in the Junior Association of Commerce makes this group of young men more appreciative of the viewpoint and leisure-time problems of children who will be privileged to participate in such activities than would be the case with older sponsors of such a program.

It should not be lost sight of, however, that the scope of such a plan as is being contemplated extends beyond the bounds of any one group for substantial moral and financial support and for reasonable assurance of permanency after it has been established.

Realization of this fact is indicated by the statement of Edwin Balyeat, president of the J. A. C., who told of difficulties encountered in securing suitable quarters and the need for contributions from other sources to meet costs of making the start.

Study of methods employed in other Ohio cities that already have such a project under way, as is planned, will be an advantage as it will thus be possible to profit by experience thus far gained elsewhere as well as to guard against mistakes.

As a phase of such a community project, with its potentialities for valuable service in the juvenile field, it may also appear advantageous to establish an advisory committee made up of persons whose duties or special interests lie in the direction toward which this project is aimed and whose knowledge and experience would be helpful in solving some of the problems that will arise from time to time.

Neglect Increases Rat Population

ANOTHER of the things that people are not inclined to do much talking about is the subject of "rats"—although observers sometimes mention seeing one or more of these loathsome rodents darting across a street and disappearing through a convenient hole into the basement of some business place.

Such a talk as was given before a civic club group in Mansfield yesterday by George Dyer, who is devoting attention to the rodent control program of the United States department of interior, tends to arouse public interest in this subject, however, and to emphasize its importance from a health and economic standpoint.

The rat population of average cities is roughly estimated to equal the human population, subject to increase through neglect or reduction by adoption and enforcement of control measures.

First move toward a community rat-control program, it appears, is recognition that "something should be done"—usually originating with the health department and carrying through to an ordinance requiring rat-proofing of common hangouts and elimination of such attractions as exposed food and garbage.

If practicable, it would seem that Mansfield health authorities would be justified in having a check-up made of this community's rat population, followed by some action that would result in decrease rather than the increase which continued neglect assures.

According to a post-war job survey there will be openings for young geologists—probably while things are at rock-bottom.

Occupation of Italian Mainland Would Bring New Food Problem

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

THE ALLIED invasion of Sicily has proceeded far enough so that we can do no harm by counting that chicken and looking about for other fields to conquer.

There seems to be widespread public expectation here at home that the next major venture of the beautifully synchronized United Nations fighting machine will be occupation of the Italian mainland. Indeed, a Madrid dispatch this morning says the Germans believe this will be the program if experience in Sicily leads the Allies to think Italy is ripe for the plucking. The Nazis are said to be rushing preparation of defenses in northern Italy.

A drive into Italy could happen, of course, but so could one or more of several other things. As a matter of fact, this uncertainty in itself represents a tactical triumph for the Allies. They've so cleverly mixed the pieces of the jig-saw puzzle of invasion that the Axis has been wholly unable to fit it together thus far. Even after it was perfectly clear that Sicily was to be one of the first points of attack, Berlin and Rome were fooled as to the exact time and place of landing.

And in the heat of operations in Sicily the hocus-pocus has been continued. The great Montgomery, Cromwellian leader of the famous British Eighth army, issued an order of the day to his troops declaring that "the time has now come to carry the war into Italy and into the continent of Europe."

Was he naively giving away the secret at last, or was he sticking his tongue in his cheek and leading the Hitlerites up the alley? Well, I've encountered Montgomery personally and know he's far from naive, but it's anybody's guess what he was up to.

What advantages would the Allies secure by taking over Italy? One of the chief gains would be the tremendous moral effect right round the world. It would weaken the morale of the Axis, strengthen that of the Allies, and tend to swing neutral nations toward the United Nations.

From the military standpoint it would ensure Allied domination of the Mediterranean, and give them control of the Adriatic, thus opening up fresh lines into the Balkans. However, it must be said that apart from these advantages Italy already is so nearly impotent as to be of little value to itself or anybody else.

NOT all that the prospectors see glittering in Italy is gold, by a long shot. The Allies are bound to consider whether it wouldn't put them into the red to take over Mussolini's sorry state.

On the debit side we should find the task of providing a nation of 45,000,000 with large quantities of food, clothing and even fuel, since the country imports most of its coal. That would be a bit of a job, what with the whole world calling for the necessities of life. Besides that there would be a vast job of administration and policing.

On the whole there are a lot of folk who are wondering whether it couldn't be about as profitable for the Allies to let Italy stew in its own fat for a while. It can't do much more damage militarily, and has ceased to be an asset to the harassed Hitler.

Whatever the answer may be to that, the Allies are in the enviable position of not being committed (or at least compelled) to pursue any cut and dried course as regards Italy. They can take it or leave it.

Many military experts incline to the view that the Allies are likely to finish cleaning up some more strategic islands when Sicily has been dealt with. One would expect big Sardinia to follow, and perhaps Corsica. Then there are Crete and some of the Dodecanese islands at the other end of the Mediterranean.

Once the thoroughfares of this great sea are secure, the Allies can make their choice or choices—the Balkans, Italy, up the Rhone valley of France, across the English channel into western France, into Norway from Britain. It wouldn't be surprising if several of these operations were put into effect simultaneously. What a squeeze that would be!

Farmer's Diary

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

'PEEVED'

THE PUBLISHER of Alpena (Mich.) News, who prints this column daily, sends me this letter from there. I have enjoyed it—maybe you will, too.

"Dear Mr. Byers:

Sorry I failed to read what you wrote about the farm being so rosy, but I did happen to read what 'A Regular Reader' wrote you, and it made me peeved. Then I read and reread the article—and laughed! (Exactly our own reaction.)

"If this 'Regular Reader' is so sore at the farm, how come she reads an article each night from 'A Farmer's Diary?' Maybe to boost the market for salt?

"Might I say farmers are human and while some farmers may be dishonest, people in glass houses should seldom throw stones, for theft is great in cities. I have just moved to Alpena from Detroit, where I always had to lock my garage every night because gas and tires were being stolen in our block. When I was through with the hose or rake or lawnmower, it must be put into the garage and locked or it stood a good show of being stolen before morning. We never thought of going to bed at night until we were real sure all the doors were locked!

"Now why? Because so many farmers were around? Absolutely no. But does the farmer padlock his barn at night? Does he guard his cattle every night in pasture? . . .

"Maybe the farmer does pinch the buffalo on the nickel and his wife fails to have a new hat, but listen—often it's some would-be farmer in Washington who creates the need for old Si to pinch the buffalo and Mama to go throughout eternity with the same old hat. God bless her! She will stick with Si, and sacrifice, if need be.

"I've lived on a farm for 15 years, and then in cities of six different states. I don't see much difference between farmers and city people so far as manners and appreciations go. You know the farm has changed in the last 20 years. On many farms, now, the old 'outhouse' has been torn down and replaced by bath room equipment. It is true the animal still stinks, but the animal isn't the only thing that stinks.

(And this is nice—) "To meet the farmer's family would be some job. It would mean going to Guadalcanal, North Africa, Iceland, England, etc. Yes, the so-called dirty, stinking farmer man is fighting for our liberty in the armed forces and here at home. He is used to a hard job—but he knows what is worth doing is worth doing well.

Sincerely,
A LOYAL AMERICAN."

Jones Blamed BEW for Delays Requested By Own Assistants

WASHINGTON—Inside fact is that despite Jesse Jones' bull-voiced demands for a congressional investigation of his row with Vice President Wallace, his close friends were trying to calm him down and urged that an investigation should be the last thing he wanted.

They knew what apparently he did not know, that there were a lot of documents in the files which wouldn't look so good if spread on the record before congress.

For instance, on July 5 he issued a blast against the vice president contending that Wallace's Board of Economic Warfare had held up the over-all agreement with Peru. This, he said, had expired in September, 1942, and because of BEW stalling, Jesse asserted, it had not been renewed.

However, Jesse apparently did not know that his own assistant secretary of commerce and right hand man, Will Clayton, had written a letter to the BEW asking that the Peruvian agreement not be renewed.

Clayton wrote the letter on April 3, 1943, stating that Warren Lee Pierson, another of Jesse Jones' right hand men, had just come back from Peru with the latest information and that the matter should be held up.

Presumably Jesse did not know what his own chief assistants were doing when he made the charge against the vice president.

This is one of the chief complaints against the secretary of commerce, who personally is considered one of the most likeable men in Washington. "Uncle Jesse" has a host of friends, but he also has about as many jobs as he has friends, and it is humanly impossible for any man to handle so many at one time.

If "Uncle Jesse" stuck to his knitting as secretary of commerce, which Herbert Hoover made one of the most important cabinet jobs in Washington, he probably would rank with Hoover as one of the best secretaries of commerce in recent history. But when he sets up a dozen and one different agencies—rubber reserve, defense plants, petroleum reserves, defense supplies, metals reserve, war damage, etc.,—then no man, no matter who he be, can keep track of them all.

Labor to the Polls.

THE AFL AND CIO have long been at swords points on a lot of things, but one thing is now drawing them together—the anti-strike bill.

Behind-the-scenes, a lot of political co-operation is being planned for the autumn of 1944.

Both big labor groups are boiling mad over the anti-strike bill and determined to get revenge on every congressman who voted for it. Under the bill, they cannot contribute to the campaign fund of a political party, but this does not prevent them from organizing their own political workers and waging their own campaign for any candidate.

Already plans are being laid to do this very thing. First campaign will be to register every labor voter, especially those who have moved to new war plants and ship-building areas.

Second move will be to set up headquarters for or against pro-labor and anti-labor congressmen. The last election saw labor generally apathetic. That has now disappeared. The plans are to get out and ring door bells, distribute literature, set up poll-watchers, carry voters to the polls and buy radio time and newspaper advertising for and against congressmen according to their labor record.

Nothing can prevent any citizen from buying advertising space, or making a speech, or contributing his services to a candidate. And the AFL and CIO plan to pool their efforts in each community in the biggest burst of political activity the nation has seen.

Money Changers.

THE INGRATIATING public relations expert of the Pennsylvania railroad slid smoothly among newsmen during the recent ICC hearing which deliberated the railroad's right to issue bonds through Kuhn, Loeb without competitive bidding.

Perhaps this was why a certain salient fact brought out at the hearing failed to reach the public.

This was: the strange circumstance by which nine directors of the Pennsylvania were in a position where their own investment companies would profit from purchase of the bonds.

In other words, the railroad voted to issue $28,483,000 of bonds through Kuhn, Loeb, despite the fact that Halsey, Stuart of Chicago and Otis and Co., of Cleveland were ready to buy the bonds at par, which, they declared, would save the railroad about $580,000.

However, the Pennsylvania directors voted to get less money for the bonds. If the railroad got less money, the financial houses who bought the bonds would have to pay less. It was a better buy for them. And nine Pennsylvania directors—a majority—serve as directors or executives of investment houses or other concerns which are interested in purchasing "bargain" bonds.

Here is the line-up:

1. The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., was scheduled to buy $1,000,000 of bonds through Kuhn, Loeb. It has six of its directors on the board of the Pennsylvania railroad: Thomas Newhall, James E. Gowan, T. S. Gates, L. T. Beale, M. W. Clement (who is president of the railroad) and R. T. McCracken.

2. The Mellon Securities Corp. was scheduled to buy $1,700,000 of the new bond issue. R. K. Mellon, nephew of the late secretary of the treasury, is a director of the Pennsylvania and also 50 percent owner of Mellon securities.

3. The Girard Trust Co., is scheduled to take $305,000 of the new bond issue and four of its officials also are directors of the Pennsylvania: James E. Gowan, president of Girard; M. W. Clement, C. J. Ingersoll and W. S. Franklin.

4. The Prudential Insurance Co., is scheduled to take $2,395,000 of the new issue. Its president, Franklin D'Olier, is also a director of the Pennsylvania.

These interested directors accepted the Kuhn, Loeb bid proposal without competitive bidding and despite the fact that Halsey, Stuart and Otis and Co., were offering a better price.

Now the Interstate Commerce Commission is deliberating as to whether the Kuhn, Loeb deal should be set aside. Upon the outcome depends the whole question of whether the competitive bidding reforms proposed by FDR back in the New Deal days will be adopted by the railroads or dropped like a hot potato.

Note—Prudential, Penn Mutual and Girard Trust stood to make about $1 on every $100 worth of Pennsylvania bonds they bought. But the Mellon Securities Corporation, of which Col. Dick Mellon and his sister are sole owners, stood to make $2.50 on each $100, because the Mellon company would get a commission as part of the selling group and also as a sub-underwriter. In other words, Col. Mellon, as a director of the Pennsylvania RR, was in a position where he could vote to benefit himself and sister to the tune of $42,500, partly at the expense of the railroad.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"My wife is spending several days with her mother."

ERNIE PYLE Roving Reporter

Ernie Tells About Last Night of Safety; Boys Talk of Plans and Hopes for Future.

ABOARD A U. S. NAVY SHIP OF THE INVASION FLEET—(By Wireless—Delayed)—Our ship has been in African water many months but this invasion is the first violent action its crew has ever been through. Only three or four men, who'd been torpedoed in the Pacific, had ever before had any close association with the probability of sudden death.

I've come to know a great many of the sailors aboard and I know they went into this thing just as soldiers go into the first battle—seemingly calm but inside frightened and sick with worry. It's the lull in the last couple of days before starting that hits you so hard. In the preparation period your fate seems far away and once in action you are too busy to be afraid. It's just those last couple of days when you have time to think too much.

The night before we sailed I sat in the darkness on the forward deck helping half a dozen sailors eat a can of stolen pineapple. Some of the men of our little group were hardened and mature. Others were almost children. They all talked seriously and their gravity was touching.

The older ones tried to rationalize how the law of averages made it unlikely our ship out of all the hundreds in action would be hit. They spoke of the inferiority of the Italian fleet and argued pro and con over whether Germany has some hidden Luftwaffe up her sleeve she might whisk out to destroy us.

Younger ones spoke but little. They talked to me of their plans and hopes for going to college or getting married after the war, always epilogued by the phrase: "If I get through this fracas alive."

AS WE SAT there on the hard deck, squatting in a circle around our pineapple can like Indians, we all seemed terribly pathetic to me. Even the dizziest of us knew that within less than 48 hours many of us stood an excellent chance of being in this world no more.

I don't believe one of us was afraid of the physical part of dying. That isn't the way it is. Your emotion is rather one of almost desperate reluctance to give up your future. I suppose that seems like splitting hairs and that it really all comes under the heading of fear yet somehow to us there is a difference.

These gravely yearned-for futures of men going into battle include so many things—things such as seeing "the old lady" again, of going to college, of staying in the navy for a career, of holding on your knee just once your own kid whom you've never seen, of becoming again champion salesman of your territory, of driving a coal truck around the streets of Kansas City once more and, yes, even of just sitting in the sun once more on the south side of a house in New Mexico.

When you huddle around together on the dark decks on your last wholly secure night it's these little hopes and ambitions that make up the sum total of your worry at leaving rather than any visualization of physical agony tomorrow.

Our deck and the shelf-like deck above us was dotted with little groups huddled around talking. You couldn't see them but you could hear them. I deliberately listened around for awhile. Every group was talking in some way about their chances of survival. A dozen times I overheard this same remark: "Well, I don't worry about it because I look at it this way. If your number's up then it's up and if it ain't you'll come through no matter what."

Every single person who expressed himself that way was a liar and knew it but, hell, a guy has to say something on the last night. I heard oldsters offering to make bets at even money we wouldn't get hit at all and 2 to 1 we wouldn't get hit seriously. Those were the offers but I don't think any bets actually were made.

Somehow it seemed sort of sacrilegious to bet on your own life.

ONCE I heard somebody in the darkness start cussing and give this answer to some sailor critic who was proclaiming how he'd run things:

"Well, I figure that Captain up there in the cabin has got a little more in his noggin than you have or he wouldn't be Captain, so I'll put my money on Jim."

And another sailor voice chimed in with, "Hell, yes, that Captain has slept through more watches than you and I have spent time in the navy."

And so it went on that last night of safety. I never heard anybody say anything patriotic like the storybooks have people saying. There was philosophizing but it was simple and undramatic. I'm sure no man would have stayed ashore if given the chance. There was something bigger than the awful dread that would have kept them there.

With me it probably was an irresistible egotism in seeing myself part of the historic naval movement. With others it was, I think, just the application of plain, ordinary, unspoken, even unrecognized, patriotism.

Dinner Party Given Thursday At Women's Club

Mrs. Falsom Teeter was hostess Thursday night at a dinner for the past presidents' parley and the American Legion auxiliary at the Women's Club.

Dinner was served at one long table to 14 members and one guest, Miss Myrtle Booth.

Following the dinner Mrs. Teeter presided at a short business session. Miss Maude Cunningham led in devotions. An article on "The Flag" by Charles Evans Hughes, was read by Mrs. Margery Ludwig.

During the business meeting plans were made for a picnic to be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Darling, Aug. 19. Associate hostess will be Mrs. Robert Jones

Hearts was the diversion of the evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. Eugene Flory, Mrs. Basil Knapp and Miss Booth.

Birthday Party Fetes Miss Juliana Farber

Mr and Mrs. Gaylord Farber, 663 Harter avenue, entertained this afternoon with a party for their small daughter, Juliana, who celebrated her fifth birthday.

The party was held in the garden. Sixteen friends of the honoree were in attendance. Contests and games were played during the afternoon. When refreshments were served, the table was centered with a large decorated birthday cake.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

Mrs. Campbell Gives Program At Circle Meet

Mrs. Robert Campbell presented a chapter on "Cultural Education and Christianity of Latin America," furthering the study along that line, at the meeting of Circle 2 of the First Methodist church held at the home of Mrs. Bert Campbell, 123 Vennum avenue, Thursday afternoon.

The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Boyd Hartman. Mrs. D. L. Divelbiss presided at the business meeting when plans were made by the group to hold a rummage sale Sept. 3 and 4.

Mrs. S. Lee Whiteman was the only guest at the meeting.. Seventeen members were in attendance.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Goon and Mrs. Michael Bayer, associate hostesses, served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

A covered-dish dinner will be held by the circle at the home of Mrs. Homer Sever, Mifflin township, Aug. 19.

Sorority Holds Picnic Meeting

Members of the Sigma Kappa Gamma sorority held a picnic and wiener roast at Midle park Thursday night in place of their regular meeting. Thirteen members were present.

Badminton and other games were the evening's diversions. Mrs. Richard James, 39 West Park boulevard, will entertain at the July 29 meeting.

Hands at Ease

Work hands into hands at ease! Who'd suspect that these are war-producing fingers? They're glamorized with half-way mitts of organdy, a five-step finger program, and a slick new polish shade, shore leave. Final step in her conversion program is sprucing off the last traces of her occupation with grime-chasing cuticle remover (see inset).

Review Book by Stanley Rycroft At Circle Meet

Stanley Rycroft's book, "On This Foundation," was reviewed Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. J. Swigart at the meeting of Circle 4 of the First Methodist church.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs L D. Bowers, 468 Sturges avenue, and was attended by 13 members and one guest, Mrs. Elizabeth Sharples

Mrs. W. C. Close led in the devotional period using "Spiritual Life Insurance" as her subject.

During the social hour, refreshments were served by the hostess and her associate, Mrs. Fred Wolff.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Rhoda Fisher, 126 Arthur avenue. That meeting has been scheduled for Aug. 19.

Jolly Lot Club Has July Meeting

Three guests attended the meeting of the Jolly Lot club and were given membership Thursday night when members of the club held their July meeting at the home of Mrs. V. E. Broach, Martha avenue.

Welcomed into the club were Mrs. Ethel Hazen, Mrs. F. A. Fagenbaum and Mrs. Mary West.

Prizes were won in games played during the evening by Mrs. Bernard Hout, Mrs Fagenbaum and Mrs Mary Bishop. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the hostess Table decorations were in a patriotic theme.

The August 12 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Guy Ferguson, North Adams street.

The diversion was played at two tables with prizes being won by Mrs. William Young. Mrs. Lowell Christman and Mrs. Bert Harbaugh At the close of the games refreshments were served at small tables. The next meeting will be held July 27 at the home of Mrs. Harold Keller, Raleigh avenue.

MRS. VIRGIL BRUBAKER HONORED AT SHOWER

Post Nuptial Party Given By Miss Ann Shadwell; Military Theme Used Throughout Evening; Guests Play Bridge.

THE FIRST in a series of post nuptial parties honoring Mrs. Virgil Brubaker, the former Corrinne Laser, was given Thursday night by Miss Ann Shadwell at her home, 208 Sturges avenue.

Bridge was the diversion of the 12 close friends of Mrs. Brubaker who were present. High score prizes were awarded to Miss Margaret Croll, Mrs. Bruce Scott and Mrs Richard Hamilton

Since Pvt. Brubaker is stationed in the infantry at Camp Carson, Colorado, a military theme was used throughout the evening. A miniature tent surrounded by tiny soldiers centered the refreshment table, when luncheon was served buffet style. Streamers from the place cards attached them to the soldiers. Candles burning in two branched candelabra and a tiered wedding cake completed the clever centerpiece. Garden flowers centered the small tables at which guests were seated. Appointments were in pink and blue.

The same idea was carried out when the honoree was presented her gifts. A small tent approximately four feet high, was built over a square box. The miscellaneous gifts were concealed inside the khaki tent, which closed at either end with small American flags.

The recent bride was given a gift of chromium by the hostess.

Mansfield Racial Groups Discussed at Guild Meet

AN UNUSUAL and interesting program was presented Thursday afternoon to members of the Women's guild of the First Presbyterian church when they met at the church parlors. Arrangements for the program were made by Mrs. Osborne Meese who used as the theme "Minority Racial Groups in Mansfield."

Afternoon speakers were four Mansfield women who represented the groups. They were Mrs. Marie Davis for the Negroes; Mrs. George Angelas for the Greek; Mrs. Anthony Mollica for the Italian, and Mrs David Rub for the Jewish people.

Each speaker used a questionaire, prepared by Mrs. Meese, and told how many of her race lived in this community, what per cent were naturalized, their religious affiliations and what they were doing along the lines of war work.

Over 100 women attended the meeting which was opened with devotions by Mrs. Royal Buchanan. She used "The Life of David" as her topic.

Hostesses during the social hour were Mrs. Milo Hieber, Mrs. G. W. Weller and Mrs. W. H. Lake from Circle 2. When tea was served the refreshment table was centered with a bouquet of mixed flowers Mrs W. H. Gifford and Mrs A C Ferrell presided.

The next meeting will be held in the church parlors Aug 19 and will be a party for the members of the Women's guild.

Hear Review of South America

A review of "South American Countries" was heard by members of the Central Methodist's Circle 4 when it met with Mrs. R. K Clark, Beechwood drive, Thursday afternoon. The review was given by Mrs. J. C. Stout.

Mrs. Clark gave a Bible study on the fourth commandment of the ten commandments

The next meeting will be a picnic for all the circles of the Central Methodist church and will be held in Middle park Aug 19.

"The Authority on Authorities"

DESTROY HIS TIMING

If you can make a No Trump declarer use up a needed entry to dummy before he has its long suit established, you have destroyed his timing of the play and rendered that suit worthless to him. Counting the number of probable stoppers of the suit held by your side, and the number of entries or re-entries to get at the suit, will usually give you the key to the situation.

West naturally led the 4 of his partner's spades. South, deciding to work on the dummy's hearts, rather than his own clubs, and therefore wishing to retain the spade A there as a re-entry, took the J with his K and then laid down the heart K West put on his A and then led the spade 2 to the A. The heart Q and J were scored, and the 8 led to West's 10. With no more spades, that defender returned the diamond 2, whereupon the diamond A, three more hearts and the club A completed nine tricks for the declarer, giving him his contract

Foresight by West should have told him to duck the heart K on the second trick. South then, if the K was a singleton, as hoped, would have had to use the diamond A to reach dummy, so he could lead more hearts." West could have taken the returned heart K with his A, then knocked out the spade A The hearts would be dead then because West could win the fourth round with his 10 That would have limited South to two tricks in hearts instead of five, and would have compelled him to let West in with clubs, whereupon a diamond lead to the K would have enabled East to finish the hand with the setting spade tricks

How should East play this hand for 3-No Trumps after the heart A takes the first trick, the 9, 10 and Q constitute the second, and the 4, 8 and K the third?

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

"Not that baby!" was Dicky's cool reply. "If she only would, the world would be a much more agreeable place. But she'll stop at the rail, and the fresh air will do her over-heated brain good"

With her hands fumbling with the bolts on the balcony doors, Ruth Hayes turned her head. Secure in the evident conviction that her escort of gangsters was on the balcony, ready to leap at us, she threw back a taunt.

"You know all the answers in the quiz tests, don't you, big boy?" she jeered, and flung open the doors. But the balcony seemed empty and she stepped outside.

Then there came a thin scream, quickly silenced, and Adams and Winters came through the door, with her between them, and the right hand of Adams firmly clamped over her mouth.

"You may let her go, now, I think," Dicky said judicially. "One of you stand near her, the other shut those doors I don't believe she'll scream again If she does, we'll have to gag her, and that will be just too bad. I'd like to have her go back to her kennel peaceably."

"What!—what!—" Ruth Hayes gasped when Adams had removed his hand from her mouth, then fell silent.

"I suppose you are melodramatically demanding to know what this means?" Dicky said, "so I will try to explain to you in words of one syllable. You see we are mind readers."

He paused and smiled at her engagingly, but she did not rise to the bait and echo the words inquiringly. Instead, she merely glared at him, and Dicky turned to me.

"Madge, are your sun glasses around?" he asked gravely.

"In my desk," I replied.

"Do you mind getting them for me?" he inquired next

"Not a bit," I assured him gravely, and walking to my desk, I took out the dark-colored glasses, and went back to him holding them out. He took them from me, put them on, carefully adjusted them, and turned back to confront Ruth.

"My oculist says I must protect my eyes from glare," he said. "But as I was saying, we guessed that you would not come up here alone, and that you would not overlook this balcony. Therefore we took steps to have our own men occupy it for the duration. Did either of you hear any suspicious sounds?" he asked Adams.

"There was a funny noise above our heads from one of the windows," Adams replied, "and we saw a couple of men peering out. But when they saw us, they drew their heads in again, and we didn't hear or see any more of them. But they must have been the birds you mean, for any regular tenants or even transients would have reported us being on that balcony. They saw our revolvers and flashlights."

"Well," Dicky said, blithely, "to give you another cliche All's well that ends well I've had a most delightful interview; the lady, I think, has learned a few truths which I hope will be salutary for her, and nobody has been harmed in the least. Thank you, gentlemen, for your very efficient aid. If you both will please escort the lady to the outside door, and put her into a taxicab, giving the man a dollar which I will return to you, and telling him to take her wherever she wishes to go, I think we may conclude this delightful episode When she is safely away, please, both of you, come back up here"

He turned to Ruth Hayes, and bowed from the waist.

"Good night, Wilderness Woman," he said. "I trust you sleep well."

But she was not beaten to the point of silent acquiescence

"Remember, you two," she said, with a venomous side glance at me, "that the last word is best, and I shall have that. And tell Mrs Bickett not to forget that she is to come alone to that rendezvous tomorrow night."

"She is so quixotic that she will do just that because she gave you her word," Dicky said. "But remember that if she is not back at the hotel one hour after she leaves here, you will pay a penalty you will not like"

"She will be here in that time," Ruth Hayes said, adding cryptically, "if I get the information from her that I want"

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, July 17.

Although this should be a very active and exciting day, with much stirring in all directions, yet it may be difficult to turn the course of events into pleasant or profitable channels There are signs of difficult and treacherous circumstances at the source of all endeavors A shrewd and logical insight into such menacing affairs may be effective in turning the tide Well-organized strategies are recommended, but be alert to all sorts of duplicities, traps, sign papers cautiously and act and make decisions on principle, not expediency. A similar adverse and inharmonious condition may threaten private affairs, unless shrewdly and diplomatically manipulated.

Those whose birthday it is are beset by danger of peculiar, menacing or disruptive forces, although there may be great activity and exciting tempo. There may be sudden, strange and unpredictable situations, to be most successfully managed by shrewd, cautious and particularly clever strategies But direct and straight-forward tactics are to be employed, lest there be grave penalties and unhappy reactions for questionable methods or connivance. Be careful with all writings and agents

Today's VICTORY GARDEN-GRAPH

Training Grape Vines In Victory Garden.

By DEAN HALLIDAY
(Released by Central Press Assn.)

There are many methods of training grape vines. Some, however, would prove rather confusing to the Victory gardener. The Kniffin system is, perhaps the most easily comprehended.

Illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph is the single-stem, Four-cane Kniffin system. The lower wire is placed 30 inches from the ground. The trunk of the grape vine is permitted to reach the upper wire and to develop two branches extending in opposite directions on each wire. Each spring these arms are renewed by a one-year cane, all other growths being cut off. The selected canes are cut back to from six to 10 buds and tied to the wires. When the buds grow the shoots are allowed to droop where they will.

Pruning of grape vines should be done in late February or very early in March. This is before the sap runs, so that the plants will not "bleed." If the vine is permitted to "bleed" its vitality will be lowered along with its ability to produce good grapes.

NEW COURSE

SAN JAUN, P. R. —(U.P.) —A school of tropical meteorology will be established at the University of Puerto Rico this summer, Jaime Benitez, chancellor of the university, has announced.

The school will be organized in co-operation with the University of Chicago and the faculty will be composed of experts from that university. Army officers are expected to attend the school, which will be open also to civilians.

IN THE CAPITAL-- By Raymond Clapper

ALLIED COMMAND POST, North Africa—(By Wireless)—The biggest single factor in the rapidly progressing occupation of Sicily is control of the air. Because we have it much is possible. If we had not been in command in the air we could not have escaped the most devastating losses.

Hundreds of ships were massed in the narrow waters of the Mediterranean for the invasion. Their presence undoubtedly was known to the Axis through reconnaissance. On the night of the invasion, Allied pilots said, the sea was black with ships. One said they were spread out for 40 miles.

Clapper

Only Allied command of the air prevented the Axis from bombing those ships in large numbers. We would not have dared to mass them that way if we had not been certain of our ability to keep the Axis air force off of them. Landing on the beaches would have been a massacre like that at Dieppe if the troops had not been protected by the supremacy of their own air forces. Beach landings traditionally have been regarded as extremely costly. The landings in Sicily resulted in relatively few casualties considering the size of the operation. The enemy just wasn't around.

Since the invasion our pilots have been cruising all over Sicily meeting comparatively few fighters. The chief trouble has come from anti-aircraft fire. There is considerable mystery as to what has become of the Axis air force in Sicily. Recently large numbers of enemy aircraft were observed on the fields in Sicily yet it never came out to fight or to attack Allied shipping concentrations.

As one of the bomber pilots said, our planes were reduced to twiddling their wings at each other. At times it seemed as if our planes were in more danger from each other than from the Axis, especially the new Mustang A-36 fighter-bomber which resembles the German ME-109.

Lieut. Col. John D. Stevens, of Laramie, Wyo., who led a fighter-bomber mission over Sicily on Monday afternoon said, "They all have run for cover."

You could see miles of empty roads with only an occasional truck, he said. "I saw a nice shiny automobile," he related. "It must have had a big shot in it. I wanted to come down and plug it but a hill interfered and I couldn't get at it."

A photographer, back from a mission over Sicily, said the line of fires extended back many miles into the interior.

Our Flying Fortress is the most discussed plane but in Sicily the medium bombers, Marauder B-26, Mustang light fighter-bomber A-36, Lightning P-38 fighter, which also does some bombing and reconnaissance are proving in their respective fields to be just as valuable as the Fortress in its.

We are producing great airplanes and the evidence already is written in history. But greater than the planes are the pilots and crews. You can hear them around the field, bragging about their respective ships as though they had personally designed them.

It takes Ernie Pyle to tell adequately about these pilots and crews, about the gunner who had a leg almost shot off yet still held his gun and not only shot down an ME-109 but took a picture to prove it; or about the heroic work of Flight Officer Stanley B. Farley, of Madisonville, Ky., who as co-pilot brought in a B-26 after the pilot was killed.

When you see these men with their cool matter-of-fact skill, not strutting around as heroes but sitting around in greasy work clothes talking shop between missions that are pounding cracks in the Axis walls you have had an experience you will never forget.

DRAFT TO MISS DADS AT LEAST UNTIL OCTOBER

Immunity Covers Only Fathers Whose Children Were Born Before Sept. 15, '42.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Most of the nation's fathers will still be in civilian clothes by October, perhaps much longer, say draft officials who are counting on single and childless married men, and the 'teen-age group to meet the armed forces' requirements.

This continued immunity from selective service applies however only to those fathers living with and supporting children born before last Sept. 15 and working at jobs outside the non-deferrable list. About 6,500,000 have those qualifications.

This was the draft picture given reporters by Major Emmett Solomon of selective service's manpower division yesterday.

The 1,566,000 single and childless married men already classified as available for immediate induction will fill the quotas for July, August and September, although some will win reclassification on appeal and about 40 per cent will be rejected and put into Class 4-F.

Supplementing this were these factors:

1. At least 50,000 youths who become 18 each month can be counted upon with certainty to land in uniform. An even greater number of the total of 90,000 reaching that age monthly may prove inductible.

2. An indefinite number will be "recovered" from the pool of 2,976,000 men rejected before because of physical, mental, educational or moral disqualifications.

3. Many of the 705,000 single and childless married men now holding occupational deferment for farm work are likely to be called by local boards after the harvest season ends.

4. Occupational deferments for non-agricultural work expire constantly and most of this group of 1,372,000 are single or childless married men.

On the other hand, it was said, only unexpected developments can continue immunity for fathers throughout a prolonged war.

The armed forces already have a strength of 9,300,000 men and women and, though casualties thus far have been considerably below the allowance made for them in military plans, the officially projected size of the armed forces is 10,800,000 by the end of this year and 11,300,000 by the middle of next year, largely as the result of naval expansion.

CIVILIANS GET 70 PER CENT OF FOOD SUPPLY

WFA Says 63 Out of Every 100 Pounds of Meat To Be Kept at Home.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Civilians will get about 70 per cent of an expected record food supply during the next 12 months, tentative allocation plans of the war food administration revealed today.

The allotment of 63 out of every 100 pounds of meat will allow a continuation of the civilian meat ration at about present levels, the WFA said.

Civilians will get approximately 70 per cent of canned vegetables, 53 per cent of canned fruits and juices, 75 per cent of dairy products, 65 per cent of fats and oils, 75 per cent of eggs and poultry, and 90 per cent of wheat and other grains.

The WFA emphasized that its plans—based on army-navy estimates, lend-lease and relief needs and civilian requirements—are subject to possible revision if there should be an unexpected change in production forecasts or export needs. But officials believe crops have progressed to a point where total production can be accurately estimated, along with livestock totals.

Although total crop production now is estimated at slightly less than last year, increased production of meats, dairy and poultry products is expected to result in total food supplies at least as large and perhaps slightly larger than last year's all-time high.

Food officials said supplies available for civilians will provide about 10 per cent less food per person than was consumed last year, but about as much on the average as was consumed from 1935 through 1939. Supplies will be adequate to maintain good health, they said.

FAIR ENOUGH-- By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK—Now that the Communist International has been dissolved again and the United States has Comrade Stalin's generous permission to eliminate traitors without hurting his feelings, why don't we? Because the New Deal won't.

That our Communists are traitors there is no possible doubt. They are, as Mr. Biddle, the attorney general, has said, not that the obvious truth needed confirmation from him, enemies of our government and of our form of government and of the capitalistic system on which it is based. Their method is violence, riots growing into civil war, and their objective is a dictatorship of a minority of the people over the majority under the rule of a small committee or one man.

Pegler

There is proof of all this in their literature and their history and if we accept the proof, as we must, if we weigh the facts honestly and without cowardice, then we should realize that they are as dangerous to the United States as the Nazis and Fascists in our midst ever were. In fact they are more dangerous because they have enjoyed the special favor of our government for 10 years and have been helped into a position of threatening power in our sea commerce, our radio communication, our propaganda and our bureaucracy and government.

In their ethics, morals and purposes they are equivalent to the Nazis as two nickels are equal to a dime and the intense, arrogant nationalism of the Nazis does not constitute a material difference because the Nazis were trying to spread national socialism, under Hitler and from Berlin as the source, just as the Communists, working out of Moscow, worked to spread communism. Like the Communists, the Nazis used internal discord as the preparatory poison and, when their victims were thoroughly confused and fighting in the streets or too badly at odds to make a united resistance, they moved in. France was a victim of disunity created by both Nazis and Communists but the work of the Communists was the deadlier at the fatal moment because they continued their sabotage in the factories and their treason in the army up to the hour of Hitler's triumph. They did this because Stalin was then still Hitler's ally through a treaty which touched off the war and they were able to do it because the French, then, like us, today, foolishly continued to regard the Communists as liberals, or at worst radicals, and to give these enemies the protection of their equalitarian, liberal laws.

It was a mistake to do so but we, in this country, who never took any lip from Hitler, did try to appease Stalin by dealing generously with the Communists. He would have had more respect for us and the two countries would understand each other better today, if we had let them go just far enough to identify themselves unmistakably and then given them the works as we gave it to the bundists.

That, of course, would have left at large that element of sneaks known as the fellow-travelers who associate politically and otherwise with the avowed Communists but cannot be convicted under our laws of being actual members of the party or conspiracy. They would be a problem still but not dangerous if we were to treat them just as we have treated those who ran with the Nazis but didn't actually join them.

Those nonjoining pro-Nazis are in the doghouse if not in the jailhouse, which is as it should be, but the difference and the danger is that the pro-Communists are not only all at large but busier than ever and are cultivated, consulted and encouraged by the national government and their power for future evil is thus enhanced.

Well there is absolutely no hope that they will be rebuffed, to say nothing of their being ostracized, as long as Mr. Roosevelt is president. Mrs. Roosevelt, Ickes and Joseph H. Davies and others among our rulers, who show a healthy detestation of Nazis and pro-Nazis, find these pro-Communists, or fellow-travelers very attractive. None of these individuals ever left anyone in doubt where a pro-Nazi was concerned.

They were against them. But neither do they leave us in doubt as to how they stand on pro-Communists. They like them. Therefore we shall never be rid of the Communist and fellow-traveler under the New Deal but Tom Dewey, for example, or Taft, or Bricker or Jim Farley or Harry Byrd, if elected in 1944 would start the damnedest scramble of vermin out of Washington that this country has ever seen.

The roads would be choked with them and, whatever else a new president elected from that list might do, and none of them would be pro-anything but pro-American, he certainly would go through those bureaus with tons of bug and rat powder and no Communist leader of any big union would ever be received with ceremonies at the White House and the officers of the army and navy would be relieved of the humiliating necessity to treat them with deference as they have to now.

Willkie you can cross off. On communism and pro-communism he can't be trusted. He may be gullible, but it is safer to suspect that, like John L. Lewis, he thinks he can use them up to a point in his business or that, like Mr. Roosevelt, he likes them.

'BIG INCH' ALL BUT COMPLETED

Oil Starts on Test Runs In Illinois-Pennsylvania War Pipeline.

(By Associated Press)

CINCINNATI—Big Inch is all but finished.

Test runs of crude oil are being pumped through the eastern section of the $95,000,000 transcontinental pipeline from Norris City, Ill., and next Monday at Phoenixville, Pa., government dignitaries, including Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, will witness welding of the last section of the 1,341 miles of 24-inch pipe.

Monday is 15 days short of a year from the time the first section was laid.

Officials of the Petroleum Administration for War and War Emergency Pipelines, Inc., said pumping started at Norris City Wednesday and oil is moving eastward 33 1-3 miles a day. Engineers are checking the run for leaks or other "bugs."

Big Inch, conceived to help meet the wartime oil crisis, now stretches from Longview, in the East Texas oil fields, to New York and Philadelphia refineries. At Phoenixville Junction the line splits, one branch going to Linden, N. J., the other to Philadelphia.

The 15,000 men who ditched plains and mountain, woods and cornfields, and laid and welded the pipe aren't quitting. They're staying on the job to finish the 20-inch gasoline line from Beaumont, Tex., paralleling Big Inch most of the way. Officials of WEP headquarters here predict the smaller line will be ready in December.

ILLNESS FATAL

Mrs. Harley Kent, 62, Lived In Mansfield 46 Years.

Mrs. Harley Kent, 62, resident of Mansfield for the past 46 years, died this morning at her home, 386 Third avenue, following a brief illness.

Mrs. Kent was born Jan. 2, 1881 in Loudonville. She is survived by her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Irene Bricker, one brother, George Metcalf, and one grandson, all of Mansfield.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where services will be conducted Monday at 1 p. m. with Rev. William P. Darling, pastor of Grace Gospel church, officiating. Place of burial had not been decided this morning.

CORRECTS ERROR

A story in yesterday's News-Journal which originated in Shelby and which carried the name of Paul Riley as being cited for violation of conditions of suspension of a 30-day jail sentence was in error.

The story should have carried the name of Ralph Riley, Paul Riley of 12 Jeffrey avenue, Shelby, has no connection with the case in which Ralph Riley was given a jail term for violation of blackout rules. The News-Journal regrets the error and takes this means of correcting it.

VOTES NEW DISTRICTS

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Delegates to the annual conference of the Ohio district, Church of the Nazarene, voted to divide the area into western and central districts, effective next June.

Up and Down THE STREET

After visiting Camp Nelson Dodd yesterday, Y. M. C. A. General Secretary Ralph E. Chapman reported today that the contingent of Mansfielders at the camp is giving a good account of itself. Thirty-three local boys have been active in the athletic program while Robert Davis serves as program director, John W. Fike as swimming instructor and Louis P. Jisa as first aid instructor. A total of 135 boys from the Ohio-West Virginia area are attending the camp.

An echo of the past and America's westward expansion is the century and a quarter old deed which came to the recorder's office yesterday. Issued in 1819 to John Limber by the government the parchment land patent took the place of the deeds now filed in each county. On the back of the patent made out at the Wooster land office in the days before each county kept records of its deed is a deed of assignment to Jacob Gehr. In the recent abstracting of a title to some land in Richland county it was found that the land patent had never been recorded and so it was sent to the county recorder's office.

The Hanley Milling company today reported its first purchase of wheat from the 1943 crop. Sent here from an elevator in Crawford county, the wheat was of No. 3 grade, had a 50 pound test, a moisture content of 14.4 and brought $1.51 per bushel.

CLAIMS GIFT

Woman Wants $40,000 Given to Wooster College.

WOOSTER —(U.P.)— A probate court hearing will be held July 26 on a petition filed by Dr. Margaret Rupert of Akron who seeks to reclaim $40,000 from Wooster college which was bequeathed to the institution by Mrs. Fiorette Fox, an aunt committed to Massillon State hospital last March.

GAINS STRENGTH

HOLLYWOOD —(U.P.)— Veronica Lake gained strength today despite her grief at the death of her prematurely born son, Anthony Detlie.

The child, born July 8, died yesterday of "prematurity," said Dr. Raymond McBurney, the film star's physician. Miss Lake was injured in a fall at her studio.

WEDDING TEMPO SLOWS IN OHIO

State Health Department Says Stork Probably Will Get a Rest, Now.

COLUMBUS — Ohio's wartime marriage tempo is tapering off, state health department records disclosed today.

"Thousands of marriageable boys are in the services," said Dr. R. H. Markwith, health director. "A decline was inevitable in the stepped-up rate dating from Pearl Harbor."

Dr. Markwith expects the stork, therefore, to trim production proportionately. The state birth rate hit an all time high of about 140,000 babies in 1942. The peak month for babies last year was October, 10 months after the nation entered the war.

Laboratory reports on premarital blood tests, required by law of all who wed in Ohio since August, 1941, show a substantial drop for each month this year against the corresponding month in 1942.

Here are the figures: January—10,457 this year compared with 15,890 in 1942; February—9,451 and 10,888; March 9,435 and 12,965; April 10,474 and 13,133; May 11,222 and 15,106; June 13,579 and 17,040.

The blood tests statistics also show that in December of 1941, as the nation went to war, a month's record of 17,429 persons had premarital blood tests in Ohio.

TAKEN BY DEATH AT HOME OF SON

Mrs. Josephine Owens, 83, To Be Buried Saturday.

ADARIO — Mrs. Josephine Owens, 83, of Adario, died yesterday at the home of her son, Lester L. Owens, four miles southwest of Ashland.

She was born Dec. 18, 1859, in Richland county, and had lived in the Adario area all of her life.

Surviving are four sons, Lester, at whose home she died, Ora and Vernon Owens, of Mansfield, and Howard of Adario; a sister, Mrs. Rena Claberg of Adario; two brothers, Alvin D. Buzzard of Greenwich, and Elmer Buzzard of Mansfield. Thirteen grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p. m. Saturday at the late home in Adario with Rev. Turner Holt, pastor of the Shenandoah Christian church, officiating. Burial will be in Adario cemetery.

ILLNESS OF 2 YEARS FATAL

LYKENS — Mrs. Helen E. Brown, 47, native of Lykens township, died Thursday at 9:10 a. m. in St. Petersberg, Fla., following an illness of two years.

Mrs. Brown was born in Lykens township. She made her home there until she moved to Florida 20 years ago.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Walter Burger, Mansfield, and Mrs. Vera DeWalt, Marion.

The body will be sent to Bucyrus where funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. at the Wise funeral home. Burial will be in Sycamore cemetery.

LEAVES SHELBY

Rev. Carl Grimm To Become Navy Lieutenant.

SHELBY — Rev. Carl Grimm, pastor of First Evangelical and Reformed church here the past four years, will leave tonight for William and Mary college, Williamsburg, Md., to begin duty as a lieutenant junior grade in the U. S. Navy.

Rev. Grimm, 35, has also been serving as pastor of Ganges Reformed church. He was formerly president of Shelby Council of Religious Education and more recently has served as clerk of the ration board.

His pastorate here will be filled by Rev. Vernon Oppermann, pastor of Sulphur Springs Reformed church. Rev. Grimm will return to the church after the war.

DETERMINED TO DO FULL JOB

Stimson Says Nation Acting To Win Quickly.

LONDON — (U.P.) — Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today that Americans on the war front and on the home front are determined to do a thorough job of winning the war as quickly as possible by fighting on to a "final and complete victory."

Stimson told interviewers one reason for his trip was to see how Britain is carrying out her defense and also to study the British use of womanpower, in which "you have taken long strides beyond what we have taken."

He said, however, that the main purpose of his trip was to see the American troops so they would realize their government was taking an interest in them and standing behind them.

EX-POSTMASTER DIES

DOVER — (AP) — Walter H. Scheu, mayor from 1920 to 1924 and postmaster from 1930 to 1934, died yesterday. He was 67.

ON BROADWAY-- By Dorothy Kilgallen

(Editor's note: The following is the first of a series of twenty-four guest columns to appear in place of Dorothy Kalgallen's regular column while she is on vacation.)

* * *

(Note: Dick Haymes is Broadway's newest swoon singing sensation. Like Sinatra, he is frequently asked "Why do they swoon over you?" Here he tells the answer.)

DICK HAYMES SAYS—

Some time ago a Broadway columnist offered a prize for the best essay on what makes the girls sigh and swoon when a romantic singer is murmuring some sentimental ditty. The menfolk remain fairly unaffected, he pointed out, but the ladies give out with gusty, heart-rending sighs that are sometimes loud enough to drown out the orchestra.

Why do they sigh? It's my job to get out on the floor several times a night and make them sigh, so maybe I can contribute some valuable data for the benefit of any sociologists interested in the subject.

Kilgallen

Naturally, the boys who are in the swoon singing business like myself would prefer to feel that the girls are sighing because they find us so completely irresistible. When I take a sure-fire swoon passage in a popular song, like "And down and down I go, 'round and 'round I go," giving it plenty of stuff, and the sighs well up, I find it hard not to say to myself: "Haymes, look at all these beautiful girls mooning at you. Is this better than working in a filling-station or is this better than working in a filling-station?"

Actually, these sighs are not for us. This is an important thing for a romantic singer to keep in mind, because other assumptions can lead to anything from a firm feminine rebuff to a swift pop on the nose from her escort. I made the discovery in a less drastic way, by having my emissaries interview several of the loudest-sighing girls just after they had recovered their breath. The results of this informal poll are very depressing to the boys in my profession.

The ladies sigh for many reasons, few of them connected with the singer who is provoking their sighs. In some cases, a girl may be reminded by the song of the June evening some years ago when the star halfback on the Plainfield Teachers eleven kissed her in the moonlight at the Sigma Nu dance and asked her to wait for him. That was fifteen years ago and she's still waiting. Who can blame the lady for sighing?

Another large group do so because as they listen to the lush, lovely words of a sentimental ballad, they are eyeing the guy with them and quietly noting that he has become quite a fat, old party. These ladies sigh because of the fact that their fellow is on the plump side and doesn't look a bit like Cary Grant or even Charles Bickford.

It's a far cry and a long haul from the tennis courts of Mansfield to the battlefields of Tunisia, and the action and excitement in the two arenas are somewhat different.

For reference, check First Lt. Warner Peterson, who made a clean sweep of Mansfield tennis championships back in 1940, and who was there when the United Nations made a clean sweep of North Africa this spring.

Pete can give you a first-hand account on either of the two subjects.

* * *

Just before Rev. and Mrs. H W. Peterson left Mansfield this week for their new pastorate in Steubenville, they received an interesting letter from their son in North Africa.

"Everything here is O K," Pete reported "I believe it can be told now that we were with the first division in the drive from Gafsa to Bizerte and Tunis, and the end of the campaign found us at Bizerte"

* * *

It wasn't just a big parade, and Pete saw some real action in the campaign. "We had a few spotty moments," says he.

"At El Guettar we were out with an advanced element when we were run over by a tank element during a Panzer counter-attack, when we were flanked by the Germans. You may have read something about the incident in the papers.

"The finale of the campaign was most welcome and interesting, as German and Italian prisoners hitch-hiked back to PW camps, or drove their own trucks in, being directed by M. P.'s."

Knowing his father would be interested in the Biblical territory through which he passed, Pete reported, "I spent a day in Carthage, and I can tell you our destruction of Bizerte was quite comparable to that of Carthage by the Romans"

* * *

Since press reports have placed some American veterans of the Tunisian campaign in the Sicilian invasion, it is quite possible that Pete is now seeing action in Sicily.

Muscles Medwick Moves On

Reported Outliving Usefulness With Bums.

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

THE BUMS rush is on in Brooklyn for fair and this time the heaveho is about to go to Joseph Michael (Muscles) Medwick, the once celebrated outfielder whose usefulness to the Dodgers, like that of Louis Norman (Bobo) Newsom, apparently has come to an end.

When the ball club left New York last night for a three-weeks trip away from the stormy scene of insurrection at Ebbets field, Medwick was left at home.

Although the maneuver was shrouded in mystery by club officials, no mirrors were needed to see behind the veil of Branch Rickey's house-cleaning.

Having moved to wipe out the rebellion against Manager Leo Durocher by trading Newsom to the St. Louis Browns for two antiquated pitchers, Fritz Ostermueller and Archie McKain, Rickey has 26 players on his roster, one over the limit, and was compelled to get rid of another man.

His choice of Medwick was connected only indirectly with the rebellion. Rickey has been trying to dispose of him ever since becoming president of the Dodgers last November. He didn't like the temperament of the famous slugger, who never had batted less than 300 in 12 seasons with the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn and who had been the National league's batting champion and most valuable player in 1937.

Although he has come down a long way from his original asking price, Rickey's chances of making a deal for Medwick have faded with the player's performance this year At present his batting average is 272 and he hasn't made a hit longer than a double.

The Bums hit the headlines again at the same time they hit the road and their antics continued to provide a smoke-screen over the activities of other clubs, most of whom resumed play yesterday after the all-star game layoff.

The Dodgers, while idle, even gained half a game on the Cardinals, who were whipped 4-3 at Pittsburgh last night as Maurice Van Robays, just returned from a minor league whirl at Toronto, collected a double and two singles to lead a 14-hit attack on Max Lanier.

The Chicago Cubs bunched five runs in the third and three in the eighth to crush the Cincinnati Reds 8-0 behind the four-hit hurling of Hiram Bithorn.

The Phillies pounded a 9-1 victory out of the New York Giants as Richard (Kewpie) Barrett pitched steady seven-hit ball.

In the American league Orval Grove attained his eighth triumph without defeat by pitching five-hit ball as the Chicago White Sox downed the Detroit Tigers 7-4.

Washington whipped the Boston Red Sox 4-3 with Bob Johnson driving in three runs, two of them on a homer.

The St. Louis Browns stopped the Cleveland Indians 2-1 in the only game played in daylight.

Volo Song Out Of Trot Feature

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Three-year old trotters return to the stage today in North Randall's grand circuit racing—minus the company of the famed Hambletonian favorite, Volo Song.

The Volomite-sired speedster is recuperating from a cold and will be out of the field for the $6,800 championship stallion stake, feature of today's program.

Cleveland-owned Adios, last year's two-year-old pacing champion, dashed to a straight victory yesterday in the $2,280 stallion stake for pacers, turning mile heats in 2:01⅓ and 2:03.

Adios' time for the first mile was a track record, and the best this season in grand circuit, North Randall officials said.

Rupe Parker steered Adios home well ahead of second place King's Counsel, with Doc Parshall driving. Widow's Bride was third.

CARBETTA KNOCKS OUT OPPONENT IN FOURTH

Paul Carbetta, Mansfield featherweight boxer, turned in a knockout victory last night at Akron's Rubber Bowl in what may be his last fight before entering the army. Carbetta stopped Jim Neeley of Detroit in four rounds.

The fight show, first ever held in the Rubber Bowl, featured Akron's Geogie Kochan, coast guard middleweight, who slugged out a decision over Ozzie Harris, Pittsburgh, in 10 rounds. A crowd of 1,500 saw the card.

Buckeye Kid Game Booked

Brown's 17-Year-Olds Have Practice Tilt.

By GRANT DILLMAN

COLUMBUS —(UP)— Ohioans will get their first good look at the squad which probably will defend Ohio State university's Big Ten football crown when Coach Paul Brown fields two teams of 17-year-olds in a practice game next Friday

The game, patterned after the annual spring practice game between the varsity and reserves, will culminate Ohio State's first war-time summer football practice and will keynote Buckeye gridiron hopes next fall.

* * *

The game will be open to the public, Brown said, and will be staged in the big horseshoe Stadium to give the 17-year-olds a taste of what they can expect next fall against Big Ten opposition.

Brown said the return next fall of the 17-year-olds who took part in summer practice was still uncertain.

"Right now our primary problem is fielding a football squad—any kind of a squad at all," he said "We've got exactly 32 left of the 57 fellows who started summer practice. The others have been drafted or have had to drop out for one reason or another."

Brown refused to predict how his freshmen would react under actual playing conditions, but he did make some comparisons with last year's championship team.

"These boys aren't anywhere near as big as last year's team," he said. "My guess is that they'll weigh from 25 to 30 pounds less per man.

"We've got a couple of pretty big lads," of course. But you'll usually find that a 17-year-old who weighs 200 pounds is more of a hindrance than a help. He's like a colt that hasn't learned to handle itself yet.

* * *

"Then you have to remember that these boys are about three years younger on an average. We've taught 17-year-olds before, and we know just about how much they can assimilate."

The freshmen have had only a few minutes of bodily contact, so far, usually toward the end of practice sessions, Brown said.

"The Big Ten rules have been relaxed, you know, to permit six days of scrimmage anytime during summer practice," he said. "But it's been tough weather to work in and we've been taking it easy. The boys never have had more than one play an evening because we know it wouldn't do any good to try to push them."

Brown would not discuss what effect the size and weight of this year's team would have on his football system which last year emphasized hard-hitting running plays.

The emphasis on passing in last spring's practice game led some observers to believe that he might try to compensate for the lack of weight with a tricky passing offense.

Haegg Aims for New Mile Record

SAN FRANCISCO—(UP)—Gunder Haegg came out from behind his new Indian war bonnet long enough today to report that he was nearing peak form for his mile race with Gil Dodds tomorrow at Kezar stadium

"Gunder might be able to establish a new record—if Dodds will pace him," said Sig Steinwall, Haegg's trainer.

* * *

The swift Swede is certain to break at least one record. The Kezar mark for the mile is 4:19.4, and both Haegg and Dodds figure to run 4:08 or under.

Dodds, reluctant to comment on his own chances to defeat the great Swedish runner, said he too was in top condition and ready to run one of the best races of his career.

About 20,000 fans have purchased tickets in expectation of a new record and possibly the long-dreamed of four-minute mile.

MEET SAILORS

CINCINNATI—(AP)—A fan-picked team of Cincinnati Reds and Boston Braves will meet Mickey Cochrane's Great Lakes naval training base nine in a benefit twilight game prior to the regular scheduled league contest here July 28. Receipts will go to the War Relief and Service Fund, Inc.

PLACES THIRD

LEXINGTON, Ky. —(AP)—Royal Defender, ridden by Priscilla Waite of Portsmouth, O., in the Lexington junior horse league show placed third last night in the juvenile five-gaited class for stallions, mares and geldings of any age.

Still Schedule Few Big Golf Tourneys

BYRON NELSON SAMMY SNEAD CHICK HARBERT

War has caused cancellation of most of the nation's annual golf tournaments but there is a big one coming up. It is the $11,900 All-American tourney at the Tam O'Shanter golf course in Chicago, July 19-25. More than 40 professionals have been lined up for the event, several of them in the services. Among those expected to play are Byron Nelson of Toledo, O.; Jimmy Demaret of Detroit; Chick Harbert of Battle Creek, Mich.; Bobby Cruickshank, Richmond, Va., and Sam Snead.

Providents Meet Champs

Painesville Girls Are Booked Here Sunday.

Old state champions and new title holders clash at North Lake diamond Sunday afternoon when the Mansfield Provident Loan girls return to action against the Painesville Arcades.

* * *

Providents, idle since their trip to Georgia, have been looking for an outstanding attraction for their next home appearance, and have landed it in the Painesville club of youngsters who swept through to the championship in the state tourney at Akron last summer.

* * *

Although the two teams did not meet in the state tourney, Painesville closed the season with a victory over the Providents in one of the best played games of the local schedule last fall.

An effort is being made to book the Painesville club for a double-header, which would start at 2 p. m. Otherwise a single game is scheduled for 3 p. m.

Brewers Cling to Hair-Line Lead

(By Associated Press)

Milwaukee, held without a decision last night, when its game at Louisville was called after 16 innings under the curfew code with the score locked 3-3, still held its hair-line edge today for the American Association leadership with a .600 rating to Indianapolis' .597.

* * *

The no-decision contest at Louisville was featured by a rally by the Colonels in the last of the 16th as they scored twice after Milwaukee had pushed across a pair of runs in the first half. The game then was called, after 3 hours and 46 minutes.

Although Woodie Rich permitted eight hits and walked five batters, he pitched Indianapolis to a 7-0 shutout over the last-place Kansas City Blues who left 11 men stranded on the bases.

Columbus walloped Minneapolis 9 to 5, then bowed 3 to 1 in a 10-inning nightcap

St. Paul and Toledo also split a twin bill, the Mudhens taking the inaugural, 2-0, but dropping the second 5-4

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(AP)—A recent visitor to these precincts was Mrs. Violet Jean McClatchey, an attractive and very earnest young woman from Bartlesville, Okla., by way of South Orange, N. J., who stopped to put in a few good words for the common copper cent. . . . The reason that Mrs. McClatchey thinks so highly of cents is that when 200,000 women bowlers start contributing them, they mount up to a good many pretty pennies, and as chairman of the War Service committee of the Women's International Bowling Congress, Mrs. M. wants to keep the pennies, nickels and dimes pouring in. . . . She also is interested in giving her favorite sport full credit for its war contributions.

Last year the WIBC bought a bomber plane for the air forces, and "adopted" its crew, thereby giving Capt. William Chum and Sgt. William Morehead something of an advantage over sailors who have only one girl in every port. . . . "Miss WIBC" already has been in action and recently returned to Dayton, O., for a checkup. . . . The girls found they had some money left over, so they bought an ambulance which will be presented to the army soon, probably at Columbus, O. . . . They're not setting any quotas for their contributions during the coming pin season, but they expect to pay for "one or more" ambulance planes at $80,000 each.

Impressive as these figures look, what really stirs Mrs. McClatchey's enthusiasm is the fact that a large part of the money comes from pennies dropped in the "kitty" for misses, splits, etc., during bowling matches. . . . One of her favorite novelties is putting a yellow pin in each pit—"they call it the Jap pin. Well, named, don't you think?"—and collecting a cent for every time it is left standing on the first ball.

In addition to contributing their small change, the women bowlers are doing such things as knitting for the Red Cross—you'll see them working with their needles while waiting their turns at the pins, writing letters to service men and women, including nearly 500 members of the WIBC in the services.

Chicago Race Boasts Class

Wright and Marsch Stables Battle It Out.

By TOMMY DEVINE

CHICAGO — (UP) — Two outstanding racing stables, crowded with talented two-year-olds, may try for a "grand slam" in the 14th annual $60,000 Arlington futurity tomorrow.

Hoping to accomplish the rare feat in the rich juvenile test are Warren Wright's Calumet farm and the stable of Chicagoan John Marsch.

The futurity, for which 256 yearlings originally were named, currently has a value of $51,050. Starters will pay an additional $750 each and indications are that a field of 16 or 18 will go to the barrier.

Calumet scored the unprecedented futurity feat of running one-two-three in 1941 when trainer Ben Jones sent out Sun Again, Some Chance and Wishbone to finish in that order.

Jones, one of the turf's shrewdest trainers, has another top-notch trio ready. The Calumet juvenile stars are Patriotism, Pensive and Viva Teddy.

Patriotism is considered tops of the group although beaten in his only two starts. Pensive and Viva Teddy have not started yet, but both have worked well since being shipped here.

Marsh won the Arlington futurity in 1942 with Occupation and his main hope this year is Occupy, a full brother to last season's victor.

Occupation was the futurity "specialist" of a season ago. In addition to the Arlington, he won the Washington Park, Belmont and Breeders' futurities Marsch envisions a similar role for Occupy this season. The son of Bulldog-Miss Bunting has started four times and won three of those efforts. He was second in his other start.

Stablemates who are expected to run with Occupy in the bid for a sweep are Broadcloth and Jezrahel.

When Calumet colts finished one-two-three in 1941 the "grand slam" was worth a total of $13,655 to Wright. But should the feat be repeated tomorrow the lucky stable would pull down a luscious aggregate of $61,550 provided there are 16 starters.

It is expected the Marsch entry will go to the post the odds-on betting favorite.

Three Champions Back To Defend Titles

Netters Demand Continuation Of Tournament In War Time.

INSISTENT demands on the part of some of Mansfield's racquet wielders that the annual News-Journal city tennis tournament be continued in spite of the war and a greatly reduced field of courtmen, is met today with the printing of entry blanks for this year's net joust.

Principal object of this year's tournament is to keep the game alive, and continue the annual succession of championships.

And in spite of the war, this is the first time in three years that the majority of defending champions are available for play, Lowell Bourns in men's singles, Mary Gregoria in women's singles, and Meredith Fisher in girls' singles.

Norman Wilcox, winner of the boys' championship last year, is reported past the junior age limit for this year's tournament.

There is little hope of staging a "bigger and better tournament than ever" but there is no reason why the tennis players who are left in the city should not have the opportunity of tournament competition.

* * *

Under similar conditions a year ago a surprisingly good entry list was attracted by the tournament, and it's possible for Mansfield netters to surprise themselves this year by entering the tourney, and inducing their friends to enter.

Except where Woodland club members meet in preliminary matches, the entire tournament will be held at Maple lake courts. All finals matches will be played at Maple lake.

Parks Commissioner Frank Burton reports the Maple lake courts are in better condition this summer than ever before, and promises they will be kept that way through the tournament.

The almost daily rains we have had this summer have helped to produce fine tennis courts at Maple, according to Burton. "When it rains at night, we get out there the next day and roll and line the courts, and put them in really fine shape," he said.

* * *

Burton had the courts in fine condition for last year's tournament, and he and his aides can be expected to repeat their work of a year ago.

Vic Alderson again will act as tournament manager.

Except when two players agree to use balls from 1942 stock, the new Victory ball will be considered the official and standard ball for the tournament.

* * *

Although entries do not close until next Tuesday night, tennis players are urged to file their entries early and not take a chance of missing the deadline. Several players last year and the year before were ruled out because their entries were received after pairing were made, disappointing both the players and the tournament management, since larger entry lists are always welcome.

* * *

Pairings for the tournament will be drawn up Wednesday, and will be published in Thursday's paper. Length of the tournament will depend of course on number of entries received in the various divisions.

Browns Edge Jim Bagby

Stephens' Homer With One on Decides Tilt.

ST. LOUIS —(AP)— Cleveland's Indians meet the St. Louis Browns tonight and for the first time in recent memory the Tribe won't be opposed by Old Nemesis Johnny Niggeling in a floodlight contest.

Al Smith, slated to hurl against the Browns' Bob Muncrief tonight, faced Niggeling in a night game June 10 and lost 2 to 1. Regarded as one of the Cleveland team's hurling jinxes, he defeated the Indians five times last year.

The Browns edged the Redskins 2 to 1 in the series opener yesterday, handing Jim Bagby his fourth straight loss. Vernon Stephens' homer in the fourth inning, following Bagby's only base on balls of the game, netted the Browns their two runs.

Ken Keltner hit a four-bagger in the sixth inning for the Tribe's only tally. Steve Sundra allowed four hits while the Browns collected six.

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The Chicago Cubs may be no great shakes of a ball club this year, but they share in the National league's barrel of whitewash earmarked for the Cincinnati Reds.

With Hiram Bithorn pitching four-hit ball and his mates banging out hits and runs as they pleased, the Cubs doused the Reds, 8 to 0, last night for the Reds' tenth shutout of the year.

Elmer Riddle, Clyde Shoun and Joe Beggs, mainly the first two, were the suffering victims of the Cubs' pounding. Riddle, seeking his 12th victory, got no one out in the third inning. The Cubs, however, got four men in, and Phil Caverretta, who had knocked two runs in with a triple, scored the fifth on Bill Nicholson's fly as soon as Shoun took over. Four singles preceded Caverretta's hit.

Nicholson wound up the Chicago scoring handsomely in the eighth inning. Ed Stanky singled and Cavarretta walked and then Nicholson, whom the Reds would like to have in their outfield, laid the ball in right field bleachers for his 12th home run of the year.

If you ever need $25, $50, $100 or more quickly and simply, come to Household Finance. If you have a job so that you can repay in small monthly payments, you are welcome to apply for any amount up to $1000. The sooner you repay the less your loan costs. Example: A $50 loan repaid in 6 monthly instalments of $9.24 each costs $5.44—if repaid in one month the cost is only $1.50. No endorsers or guarantors are ever needed. We never make inquiries of friends or relatives.

FLYIN' JENNY

BABE, WHERE'S JENNY?
GONE FOR A SKY-HOP WITH CAPTAIN ENDU FOR A LOOK-SEE AT MT. HOLOCAUST BY MOONLIGHT
NEVER HEARD OF IT. ANYWAY, JENNY HAD THIS DANCE WITH ME
THEY'LL BE BACK IN A FEW MINUTES--THEY SAID! AND I'M AVAILABLE--IF YOU JUST GOT-TA DANCE!
BUT THIS IS A MILITARY PLANE--RECCO JOB, ISN'T IT?
YES--I JUST LEARNED THAT MY OWN PLANE ISN'T SERVICED. WE'LL TAKE THIS AND SAVE TIME. I HAVE PERMISSION.
7-12-43
JENNY HAS A FLASH OF UNEASINESS AS CAPTAIN ENDU TAX-IES THE PLANE TO THE FAR END OF THE LONGEST RUNWAY.
SORRY, CAPTAIN--I FEEL ILL. I'D LIKE TO GO BACK PLEASE.
HA! YOU HAVE THE EARTH-BOUND MEEMIES
WHICH MEANS YOU'RE BORED--THE SKY WILL CURE YOU.
COULD BE--BUT IT FEELS LIKE A HEAD-ACHE TO ME.
7-13-43
AS CAPTAIN ENDU GUNS THE MOTOR OF THE POWERFUL PLANE, JEN-NY REALIZES INSTANTLY---
---THAT THIS IS NO ORDINARY PLEASURE FLIGHT. THE PLANE IS HEAVILY-LOADED--SERVICED FOR A LONG FLIGHT. SUDDENLY, SHE IS SCARED!
7-14-43
SHE TRIES TO DISMISS A WARNING PREMONITION OF DANGER--THE THOUGHT PERSISTS!
SOMETHING ABOUT THIS SET-UP IS PHONEY--I WONDER IF BABE SENSED IT TOO?
IS THIS THING TIED TO THE GROUND, BY ANY CHANCE?
7-15-43
I'M A CAREFUL PILOT. I PREFER A LONG RUN. DON'T YOU?
THAT DEPENDS. PERSON-ALLY, I'D ALSO PREFER TO CLEAR THOSE TREES AT THE END OF THE FIELD.
SEE? WE CLEARED THEM EASILY.
OKAY, CAPTAIN I APOLOGIZE.
HE'S A MARVELOUS PILOT--WISH I KNEW WHAT HIS GAME IS!
FEELING BETTER, FRAU ----ER SUGAR?
ULP--WHA--OH YES--THANK YOU!
OH--OH! NOW IT COMES OUT.
HOPE YOU'LL FORGIVE THE FAMILIARITY, MISS DARE YOU KNOW I LIKE YOUR AMERICAN TERMS
YOU WOULDN'T HAPPEN TO LIKE GERMAN ONES TOO, WOULD YOU?
WHAT DO YOU MEAN?
7-16-43
NOTHING--I JUST HAD A FEELING YOU WERE ABOUT TO CALL ME FRAULEIN.
THERE IS A STRAINED SILENCE AS JEN-NY'S SUSPICIONS OF CAPTAIN ENDU BECOME SUDDENLY CLEAR TO HER--- AND HE SENSES THIS:
7-17-43
JENNY, MY GAL, YOU'RE IN A SWEET JAM · BUT TIGHT!
I'LL HAVE TO BE MORE CAREFUL --FOR A WHILE. ANOTHER HOUR AND--- AH THEN---
